Study Group Urges Urban Renewal Vote

By Gary Rodgers

The Mayor's Council on Urban Renewal approved unanimously—with a single abstaining vote—a motion to recommend adoption of an urban renewal program in Lincoln at the group's final meeting Friday.

John Campbell, representing the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, offered a motion to adopt the fact-finding Council's report and "recommend that the City Council press for the necessary state enabling legislation and submit the proposition to the voters of the city of Lincoln as soon thereafter as possible."

The lone abstention was voiced by Winnifred Lewis, delegate of the Citizens Movement for Human Rights Assn. She told the committee she would present a minority report when the committee recommendation is made to the City Council Monday afternoon.

Following presentation of graphic reports by committee members, Council Chairman L. A. Enersen summarized with the statement:

1) Deterioration exists in Lincoln in sufficient amounts.

2) An urban renewal program is the best means of mending decay.

3) An urban renewal program will help us to keep order in the city in accordance with the regional plan.

4) The cost is in no way a burden and may turn to be a credit.

(5) Urban renewal is a democratic device in which the individual enjoys greater protection than in other governmental processes already in operation.

The committee recommended that the proposal not be put to a vote until the Legislature has passed one of the two bills now pending which would eliminate certain present ambiguities.

These bills are LB12 which clarifies and corrects wording of the present law and LB433 which gives an urban renewal authority the power to levy one mill without prior approval of city bodies.

The Lincoln City Council has voiced opposition to all but LB12. Apparently neither bill will be passed in time for urban renewal to be on the city ballot in either April or May, committee members said.

KENNEDY HANDED A DEFEAT

—WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN LAOS?—

Worried World Waits On Nikita

Washington (AP)—Hopes for a cease-fire in Laos to douse a smouldering threat to world peace turned Friday night on the still-silent Kremlin.

While the United States moved military units toward the little southeastern Asian kingdom, a worried world waited to see what Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khruschev would do.

The immediate, pressing question:

Will the Soviet Union accept a British proposal for a truce between the U.S.-backed Laotian government and Communist-led rebels?

If Khrushchev says yes, presumably the threat of another Korea—with its ever-present peril of general war—will subside.

If Moscow rejects the offer or remains silent, the United States stands pledged by President Kennedy to honor its commitments to Laos—and these call for armed intervention if necessary.

In this position, the young Democratic President Friday received the blessing of his Republican predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The London proposal for a cease-fire to be supervised by an already existing international commission made up of representatives of India, Poland and Canada carried no time limit and no one here was prepared to set a deadline.

However, Sen. Alexander Wiley, of Wisconsin, ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, may have given a good clue when he said:

"What we will do will depend on what the Kremlin will do in the next 48 hours."

Tending to back this estimate was the fact that Khrushchev returned to Moscow Friday from a farm tour into Siberia. In his news conference Thursday, Kennedy said the Laotian situation "becomes increasingly serious as the days go by."

With Poland representing the Communist bloc and Canada the Western world on the truce commission, the key role falls to neutralist India.

Kennedy underscored this Friday by appealing to India's Prime Minister Nehru to cooperate wholeheartedly in the efforts to arrange a truce.

Wiley, at a session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, went further and said India already is playing "a tremendous part" in the behind-the-scenes negotiations to reach an agreement under which Laos would be saved from a Communist takeover.

Pardon Board Backs Change

The 3 members of the Nebraska Board of Pardons and Paroles Friday lined up solidly behind a bill which proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to create a new board.

The Legislature's Government and Military Affairs Committe held the bill, LB377, after a public hearing in which Governor Morrison, Atty Gen. Clarence Meyer and Secretary of State Frank Marsh, the present board members, criticized the way the board is set up.

Only opposition to the bill came from George Morris, present state purchasing agent and former superintendent of the Men's Reformatory.

LB377 contemplates establishment of a full-time board composed of professional men appointed by the governor. The governor would still retain his power to commute and reprieve sentences

Morrison, Meyer and Marsh all had a similar lament about the present setup—they do not have sufficient time or qualifications to do their best job.

"I am convinced the board should be abolished," Morrison said. "In the first place, I don't like elected officials serving on it."

The governor explained that there is a "tendency toward political overtones in the functioning of the board."

He illustrated this with an example that has happened to him in his short tenure on the board.

Morrison said that since he voted to commute the death sentence of Luther Wesley Wilson, he has received "many times more mail on it than from all the official acts since I've been governor. Nine-tenths of the violent letters I received came from people who didn't know the facts."

He said it was an "unhealthy situation" when a

37 Injured In Chicago Bar Blast

Chicago (AP)—At least 37 persons were reported injured Friday night in an explosion in a North Side tavern thought to have been caused by a bomb.

Fire and police offícals said the blast appeared to have been caused by a dynamite bomb, but they also were investigating the possibility that it might have been caused by a gas leak.

A witness told police that a bomb was thrown through the front door glass of the tavern, the Hi Fi Lounge at 943 N. Wells St., not far from the Moody Bible Institute.

At least 5 of the injured were reported to be in serious condition.

The Rev. Patrick McPolin, chaplain of the St. Jude's League, arrived at the scene shortly after the explosion. He said one man appeared to be in danger of losing a hand and a number of persons had foot injuries.

U.S. SPENDING WILL REMAIN IN THE RED

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy labeled the last budget of Dwight D. Eisenhower inaccurate and told Congress Friday to expect two more years of spending in the red.

Kennedy's special budget message to Congress—by omitting defense proposals—did not detail all the expected deficits for fiscal years 1961 and 1962. But the combined total evidently would reach $5 billion, raising the national debt to record heights.

Much of the 6,000-word message was spent criticizing the budget estimates submitted by former President Eisenhower in January.

Twice Cut

Kennedy noted that Eisenhower originally predicted a $4.2 billion surplus for 1961, then cut his estimates to $1.1 billion, and finally to less than $80 million.

Actually, Kennedy went on, his administration inherited a more than $2 billion deficit and not a surplus of $80 million from the Eisenhower administration.

Kennedy said the reason for the difference was that Eisenhower, in his message to Congress in January, took no accout of the recession and assumed "a much rosier economy." As a result, Kennedy said, Eisenhower:

1. Optimistically estimated tax revenues.

Assumed Vote

2. Unrealistically assumed Congress would vote a postal rate increase.

3 Substantially underestimated the normal flow of defense spending.

4. Underestimated spending for several other programs.

For fiscal 1962, Eisenhower estimated spending of $80.9 billion and revenues of $82.3 billion for a surplus of $1.5 billion.

Kennedy said his proposals, aside from the defense budget, would add $2.3 billion to spending, for a total of $83.2 billion.

He also said "the effects of my economic program on the economy" would increase revenue by $900 million.

Thus, Kennedy said, if the Eisenhower estimates of revenue had been accurate, the non-defense aspects of the budget would be balanced.

The biggest boosts asked by Kennedy:

Aid to Education $500 million; Agriculture Department $478 million; Commerce Department $48 million, with most going to depressed areas; aid to children of the unemployed $215 million; temporary unemployment benefits, $440 million; space projects, $85 million.

Future Word

Kennedy said some of his tax and fiscal recommendations would be sent to Congress in future messages. But he did make 3 requests:

1. An increase in postal rates of $343 million, the same as asked by Eisenhower.

2. Additional funds for the internal revenue service so it can hire more agents to increase collection of federal revenues and help curb corruption in and out of government.

3. An increase in the national debt limitation. The current permanent limit is $285 billion. A temporary limit of $293 billion expires next June 30.

TRIO INJURED IN COLLISION OF 3 AUTOS

Three persons were injured early Saturday in a 3-car crash near 20th and Cornhusker.

Slightly injured were Mary Ann Duffy of Omaha, Mrs. Patricia I. Slosson, 28, of 6745 Burlington Ave., and Mrs. Marian L. Radford, 26, of Pleasant Dale. Miss Duffy and Mrs. Slosson were passengers in a car driven by Mavis A. Ham, 24, of Omaha.

Mrs. Radford was driving another car. The 3rd vehicle was driven by James H. Lyons, 30, of 2545 Theresa.

Federal Aid To Penguins No Joke

By John A. Goldsmith

Washington (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., Friday put forward a constituent's tongue-in-cheek suggestion that the government should invest in a penguin aid program. Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., calmly replied that it already has.

Also seals, she said.

Mrs. Neuberger's comments were made "in all seriousness" after Proxmire read the Senate a satirical letter stressing the plight of the male Antarctic penguin after the female lays her annual egg and leaves home.

According to Clifford E. Shaw of Milwaukee, father penguin must stand on one foot for the 60-day incubation period, without food or water nestling the egg against his body to keep it warm.

Ignore Plight

"How can we, living in considerable luxury, ignore the plight of this majestic being?" Shaw's letter asked, noting that papa penguin gets "pretty weak from hunger" by the end of his ordeal.

Shaw proposed a program starting slowly with grain feeders near the nests. Later, he said, heated shelters and padded nests can be supplied and the birds won't have to hold the eggs. The birds may protest, he said, but we can insist on certain reforms on grounds that "we 'New Frontier' thinkers know how to run their affairs better than they do."

Shaw said his program is "bold," will reduce grain shortages and cast us as great humanitarians and will provide domestic employment. It will provide an opportunity for penguin "birth control programs," Shaw said, and besides, "the Russians haven't thought of it yet and we can be first in this vital area."

Perhaps the female penguin will eventually lend a hand so that aid can be reduced or "she may tell us to mind our own business," wrote Shaw. "When you think about it, that's not a bad idea."

Mrs. Neuberger said she thought Shaw should know what happened when the city of Portland, Ore., sent an expensive expedition south and got some penguins for the zoo. Very soon, she said, the penguins fell mysteriously ill with "a sort of asthmatic condition."

She said her husband, the late Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, D-Ore., called the Fish and Wildlife Service here in Washington, and an expert came out and controlled the malady.

Mrs. Neuberger said she still hears from the "eminent biologist" who effected the cure. He's up in the Pribilof Islands "looking after the seals," she said.

Conservative Minimum Wage Bill Is Approved

JFK-BACKED MEASURE BEATEN IN HOUSE BY SINGLE VOTE

Washington (UPI) — The House Friday night passed a conservative-backed $1.15 minimum wage bill after killing President Kennedy's $1.25 proposal by one vote. It was his first big defeat in the Democratic-controlled Congress.

The roll call vote on final passage was 340 to 78. But the fireworks were over by then and the action was a mere formality.

The House-approved bill, which now goes to the Senate, called for a lower wage floor and covered 2.3 million fewer workers than Kennedy asked.

Senators Serve Notice

Administration spokesmen in the Senate promptly served notice they would attempt to revive the administration's $1.25 an hour proposal and throw the issue into a House-Senate conference committee to work out a compromise.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., told a reporter: "We may have lost a battle, but not a war by a long sight."

The House first killed by a 186-185 vote a Kennedy-endorsed measure that would have raised the federal minimum wage from the present $1 to $1.25 an hour and have brought 3.7 million new workers under the wage-hour law.

Then by a 206-162 vote the coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats rammed through their bill that would set the wage floor at $1.15 4 months after the measure became law. It would bring only 1.4 million new workers under the wage-hour law and restrict their wage floor and overtime protection.

The defeat was a major blow to the Kennedy legislation program because even the most favorable action by the Senate could not completely salvage the administration proposal. A House-Senate conference committee would compromise differences in the two bills.

Bank Buys Movie Spot

. . . Lincoln Theater

The First Continental National Bank and Trust Co. has announced the purchase of the Lincoln Theatre Building from the Cooper Foundation for further expansion of banking facilities.

"Continued growth in banking activity makes this addition to present banking quarters desirable," C. Wheaton Battey, chairman of the board, and Burnham Yates, president, stated.

They said First Continental will take immediate steps to plan and erect a new structure to conform architecturally with the First Continental National Bank Building adjacent to it.

More Frontage

The present building at 12th and N occupies 100 feet of frontage on N Street in addition to the parking garage at the corner of 12th and M. The purchase will provide an additional 75 feet of frontage on N Street for banking facilities.

According to Kenneth E. Anderson, general manager of the Cooper Foundation Theatres, the theatre will be closed and dismantled beginning about May 15.

"Pictures now being played at the Lincoln will be shown at the Stuart and the Nebraska Theatres," Anderson said.

The Nebraska Theatre will be refurbished to accomodate this change of policy, he added.

Battey and Yates stated that they believe the outlook for good economic growth of Lincoln and of the state of Nebraska is excellent. "The enlarged banking quarters should further facilitate efficient handling of business for its customers," they added.

Central Gets Nuclear Plant Gas Contract

Central Electric and Gas Co. officials reported Friday night that they had been informed by a reliable Washington source that Central has been authorized to construct natural gas facilities for Sheldon Station.

Involved in the construction project, estimated to cost $425,000, is a 10-inch gas main from Northern Natural Gas Company's main line near Adams to a point near Hallam, site of the Consumers Public Power District nuclear power plant.

Natural gas will be used as the main source of heat for steam generation in the conventional boilers which will power the station's 100 megawatt steam turbine generator.

"Construction of the new gas main will start in the very near future," according to H. M. Wilkerson, Central's Southern District manager at Beatrice.

—CRISIS IN LAOS—

SEATO Forces To Be Bolstered

. . . To Halt Red March In Southeast Asia

Bangkok, Thailand (AP) — The Southeast Asia Treaty organization's military chieftains, faced with an explosive crisis in Laos, vowed Friday to strengthen the alliance's fighting power to halt communism's aggression in southeast Asia.

A few hours later, the pro-Western government of Laos charged 6 battalions of communist troops had invaded Laos from north Viet Nam for use against the already demoralized royal army.

The United States, which has given the government $314 million in aid and military advisers in its fight against pro-communist rebels, announced 15 helicopters are due in Laos to provide additional help.

The next U.S. move, in the words of Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., depends on "what the Kremlin will do in the next 48 hours."

Premier Khrushchev reached Moscow after an 18-day tour of agricultural areas but there was no official comment on Kennedy's plea. A British Foreign Office spokesman said the Russians had promised "serious and urgent" consideration of Britain's proposal for an immediate cease-fire to be followed by negotiations.

SEATO's military leaders made an open show of solidarity, apparently intended to squelch reports there had been bickering among the 8 member nations. Close cooperation is necessary, their communique said, to "safeguard the freedom of the peoples of the non-communist states" in southeast Asia.

The communique, issued at the end of 3 days of secret talks in this SEATO headquarters city, made no mention of what recommendations the military men will make to the pact's foreign ministers, who meet here Monday.

The weatherman forecasts cloudy skies, light wind and warmer temperatures for eastern portions of the state Saturday. Highs are expected between 65 and 70.

Panhandle temperatures will be in the 50s.

Ike Backs Laos Policies Of JFK

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower told a putting green news conference Friday that he and President Kennedy seem to have the same views on the Laos situation.

The vacationing former chief executive said he and Kennedy discussed the Laos crisis by telephone Friday morning and:

"His idea seemed to conform exactly with what we had tried to do the last few years, so I went along with him."

Eisenhower and wife Mamie came to this desert resort last Feb. 8 for golf, relaxation and sunshine. His secretary announced the news conference—first since his arrival—Thursday night, saying he would discuss international affairs.

Kennedy heard about it, called Eisenhower to ask if he planned to discuss Laos, and that led to the exchange of views.

Silent on Budget

The former president declined comment on Kennedy's budget message, which termed the budget Eisenhower submitted before leaving office as "over-optimistic." The Eisenhower budget forecast a slim surplus, but Kennedy said it is over $2 billion out of balance.

Playhouse 'Candida' Sparkling, Fast-Moving

By Earl Dyer

A performance which sparkled with the wit of George Bernard Shaw marked the opening Friday night of an 8-day run of "Candida" at the Lincoln Community Playhouse.

The performance was a fast-moving one that made the most of the lightning thrusts of the famed Shaw's pen. The cast surpassed its amateur status with a quick, but always clear and well-timed, delivery combined with actions that seldom detracted and often added a good deal.

Vivian Cumming Trott played the title role with grace and humor, and William Mondary turned in a substantial performance as her ever-sermonizing socialist minister husband.

But top performances were by Don Sobolik, whose action and accent were well-nigh perfect as Mr. Burgess, the businessman who favors low wages, and by Jim Miller, the loose-limbed and quick-tongued eccentric Eugene Marchbanks.

Also getting a good, and deserved, share of the laughs was Jan Healey, the secretary who is finally pressed to admit she loves her boss and breaks her "pledge" by getting tipsy on champagne. Hal Hasselbalch, in the smaller role of the curate, was also responsible for part of the fun.

An imaginative setting by Lee Schoonover drew audience favor, and much of the credit for the fast-paced and well planned performance must be due to the direction of Bonna Tebo Hays.

Additional performances are scheduled Saturday night and Tuesday through Sunday of next week.

IRS Delays Approval Of Instant Lager Plan

The Internal Revenue Service, after hearing two days of argument on whether to approve the instant lager, decided to take still more testimony starting next Sept. 6.

Opponents of the idea, including the Brewers Association of America and the Brewery Workers Union, told IRS they hadn't had any opportunity, until this week's hearings, to find out much about the concentrated brew.

At their request, IRS deferred action on the proposal of Union Carbide Corp. for a regulation under which concentrated beer could be produced, sold, consumed — and, of course, taxed.

The basic idea is the same as the concentrated orange juice you keep in the refrigerator, with an important difference. At this stage, only brewers would use it; there are no plans for consumer-type distribution.

As explained by Union Carbide, the beer would be brewed as usual right through the aging stage. Then water would be removed by Carbide's process.

The concentrated beer then could be stored or shipped in barrels to branch breweries. Later on, the water could be restored and the beer sold as usual in cans or bottles. Carbide's witnesses testified the end-product has substantially the same color, aroma and flavor as if it had never been concentrated and reconstituted.

The company proposes to license brewers to use the process, but cannot do so until IRS issues a regulation.

LAST LETTER DOWNFALL OF TAX CHEATER

New York (AP)—A Brooklyn shoemaker was sentenced to 3 years in federal prison Friday for an income tax racket that netted him $30,000 in fraudulent refunds in 3 years.

He is Frank Zakar, 59, who pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Leo F. Rayfiel to 10 counts of income tax irregularities.

The government said Zakar filled out false tax withholding forms, following them up with bogus returns that apparently entitled him to refunds. In each case he used a variation on his rightful name.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert S. Kreindler estimated Zakar received 60 refunds at an average of $450 each before Internal Revenue Service employes became suspicious because so many refunds were going to persons whose names began with the last letter in the alphabet.

Jealous Rage Takes 3 Lives

Reading, Pa. (AP)—A father of 12 strangled a man and woman in a burst of jealousy, then set their bodies aflame in a car alongside a lonely road, he told police.

The woman's baby also was burned, but whether after death had not been established Friday.

Adam Stamm, 50-year-old truck driver for a textile machinery firm, has admitted killing John F. Hyneman, Jr., 43, himself the father of 10, and Mrs. Peggy Marie Timmons, 33-year-old widow who had 7 children.

Stamm, weeping and trembling, was taken before Alderman Ralph Breneiser Friday and charged with murder. He was held without bail for court action.

Dist. Atty. Frederick O. Brubaker of Berks County said Stamm also admitted putting the body of Mrs. Timmons' two-months-old daughter, Carla, in Hyneman's automobile, next to her mother, but denied killing the child.

Mrs. Timmons had been living in a house provided by Stamm. He said he had been helping her in other ways as well.

fected both sides, but they felt they suffered more than the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition.

They also were unhappy at the failure of liberal Republicans to join them in the teller vote on the Kennedy-backed proposal. On such a vote, members pass down the center aisle of the House and are counted for or against a measure.

Democratic sources said they saw only two Republicans—Reps. Paul A. Fino, N.Y., and Seymour Halpern, N.Y.,—pass through the tellers on behalf of the liberal-backed bill.

Before taking a final vote on the legislation, the House rejected 224-196 a motion to send the whole issue back to the labor committee.

The outcome was utterly unacceptable to leaders of organized labor. Even before the voting, the AFL-CIO Retail Clerks Union spoke out against the Kennedy-backed compromise on grounds it was "grossly deficient."

In acting on the legislation, the House took a series of tentative votes in which the administration forces suffered running defeats. It was on a final roll call vote of 216-203 that the GOP-Southern Democratic coalition nailed down its victory.

On this vote, 142 Republicans and 74 Democrats successfully opposed the administration. Voting for the Kennedy-backed proposal were 177 Democrats and 26 Republicans.

The President had proposed an increase in the minimum wage to $1.15 within 4 months, as provided in the bill finally approved. But he wanted another step-up raising the minimum to $1.25 two years later.

NEBRASKANS SPLIT VOTE

Washington (AP) — Nebraska's Republican congressmen split 3 to one as the House by a 216-203 vote adopted a coalition-backed minimum wage bill after defeating a compromise measure supported by the administration.

Library Service Trends Described

Trends and developments in public library service under the national Library Services Act of 1956 were described at the Lincoln Library Assn.'s annual dinner meeting Friday.

Miss Helen Luce, a library extension specialist of the U.S. Office of Education, said regional libraries such as the one in south central Nebraska are conducting surveys to determine how they can do their jobs better.

She also noted legislation is pending in 4 states that would grant state aid to small communities' libraries. Since 1956, she said, 4 states have approved such aid.

Donald Wright and Elmer Bachenberg, members of the Lincoln Book Fair Council, presented a progress report on the book fair set for this coming autumn.

Crete Aiding Future Of Cuban Ag Engineer

. . . Gancedo Studying Business Methods Of Firm

By Dean Terrill
Southeast Nebraska Bureau

Crete—It's an ill wind that blows no good—even when it comes from the tornadic situation in Cuba.

Lost 3 Businesses

A partner in a 3-year-old Havana company manufacturing Morea, a liquid livestock feed patented by the Crete firm, Gancedo is making a second start after losing 3 substantial businesses to the new Cuban government. Besides the feed plant, a family lumber firm and alcohol distillery were taken over—the executives replaced by Castro appointees.

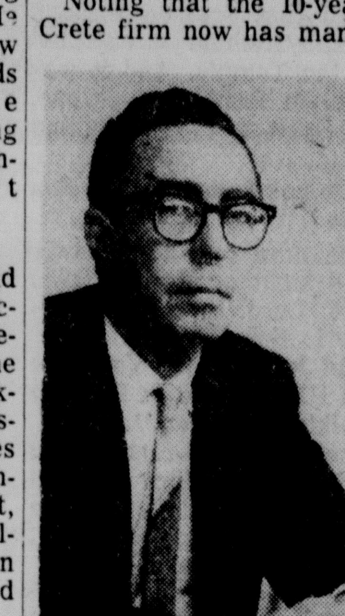
The English-speaking engineer, who also holds a sugar chemist's degree from Havana University, left the country with his wife and two children, now in Miami. He is understandably close-mouthed about Cuban politics, glossing over his personal losses with optimistic talk of his Nebraska-spawned future.

"There is a great need for agricultural improvement in the Spanish-speaking countries," he enthused. "I believe this company and product have a great future, and will help raise health standards in those areas."

Although Gancedo believes the United States is fairly well informed on Cuban internal matters, he emphasized that great economic changes have taken place there. Government operation has spread to practically all big businesses, as well as communications media.

"Only the government can export or import goods now,' he added, "and each family is permitted to own only one house, eliminating residence rentals."

Noting that the 10-year-old Crete firm now has manufacturers in 9 foreign countries, executive vice president Joe Nosky expressed enthusiasm over Gancedo's association with the company.



Gancedo . . . a Cuban past traded for Nebraska future.

"We have no direct financial investment in the overseas plants, but do receive royalties from them," he explained. "Dealing with South American countries has been a special chore, so we feel fortunate in having our Spanish-speaking friend as a representative."

Three other men connected with foreign firms also are in Crete now learning of the local plant's operations. They are Horacio Villavicencio of Guatemala, and Barnie Evans and David Selby of England.

Car Dealers Tab Gotfredson Head

Gotfredson

He succeeds A. C. Borrer of Alliance.

Other officers named were: Richard J. McFayden, Omaha, first vice president; R. E. Kinman, Grand Island, second vice president; C. K. Holmes, Nebraska City, secretary-treasurer.

Car sales are mounting and "this should turn out to be a pretty good year," James C. Moore, Washington, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Assn. said Friday.

He predicted that sales will total 6,200,000 cars, including 375,000 imports.

Meet Star Carrier Mike Finnegan

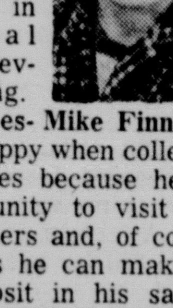
Mike takes pride in making sure all of his customers are pleased with his service and those on his route can always depend on a dry paper in the usual spot early every morning.



Mike Finnegan

Mike is especially happy when collection time arrives because he has an opportunity to visit with his customers and, of course, this means he can make another deposit in his savings account for a new bicycle.

Besides the convenience of his being able to write a check from his checking account to pay his bills, he is taking advantage of a good source of business training in this procedure.

Reading is this carrier's favorite subject, making it easy for him to tell his prospective customers about the Lincoln Star as he reads it thoroughly each day.

Mike's hobby during the winter is building model planes. In the summer he enjoys baseball and visits his grandparents on their farm near Sutton. He hopes to make farming his career when he is out of school.

Any young man interested in a morning Lincoln Star route in his home town may receive full information by writing to the State Carrier Department, The Lincoln Star, Lincoln 1, Neb.

Nebraska City Depot Facilities 'Adequate'

The Nebraska Railway Commission reported Friday it has found the Greyhound Bus Depot facilities at a Nebraska City service station to be adequate for service to the public.

The commission decision came after a complaint by J. L. Mattaox, Nebraska City attorney, about Greyhound using the service station as its depot instead of the Grand Hotel, which it previously used.

No complaints had been received from any Greyhound passengers or other persons.

Lincoln Firm Gets Milford School Work

Lincoln Star Special

Milford — Leonard Kuhre, superintendent of schools here, announced that contracts totaling $531,493 have been awarded for the construction of a new junior-senior high school building at Milford.

Westcott-Bowen Construction Co. of Lincoln was the low bidder for general construction at a cost of $380,186. Second low bidder was the George Cook Construction Co. of Lincoln with a bid of $381,483.

Reinhardt Brothers of Lincoln submitted the low bid of $106,800 for the mechanical work. Claussen Electric of Norfolk was awarded the electrical work, bidding $42,212. Architects for the building are Schaumberg & Freeman of Lincoln.

The new building, to be located at the west edge of Milford, is planned for a capacity of 400 students. It will serve the community of Pleasant Dale as well as the rural areas surrounding both Milford and Pleasant Dale.

The district has an assessed valuation of approximately $6,135,000. A bond issue of $635,000 was approved by the voters of the district in 1960 for construction of the new building.

Woman Sues For $150,000 In Blast

Omaha—Mrs. Jayce Cook of Wahoo asks $150,000 damages in a suit filed in Federal District Court against the Electric & Gas Co., a corporation in Chicago, as the result of an explosion in a Wahoo home March 15, 1960.

The Wahoo woman charges she was permanently injured in the blast in her home which was caused by the ignition of gas permitted to escape into her home through negligence.

Falls City Chamber Post Goes To Maher

Falls City (AP)—William P. Maher, 31, Lincoln, has been named secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, and will assume his new post on April 1. Mr. Maher was manager of the Broken Bow Chamber of Commerce in 1960. He succeeds Blaine Yoder, who resigned earlier this year.

CPPD TO BUILD AT COLUMBUS

Lincoln Star Special

Columbus—Construction of a $225,000 addition to the Consumers Public Power District building here was approved Friday by the Consumers board of directors.

The addition, 59 feet wide and 85 feet deep, will have a basement and two stories, and will provide 15,045 square feet of office space. It will be built to match the style of the present structure, will be electrically heated and will include a "home service" auditorium seating about 100 persons.

Consumers officials said the added structure would relieve crowding in the present building and provide space for Columbus district offices, now located across the street.

The addition will be built on a lot recently purchased by Consumers which has been occupied by an apartment house.

Construction is to start by August 1, and completion by the end of the year is hoped.

Other Work Okayed

The directors also approved $9,923 in new cable work for new Lincoln substations at 40th and Pioneers and 27th and Prospect, and $18,000 for a new transformer for Lincoln, as well as another $41,000 item for transformers for Lincoln and York areas.

Other major projects approved, in a total construction program which will cost $561,000, included:

$112,500 for about 13 miles of line between Pawnee City and Humboldt.

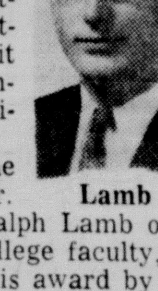
$10,000 Graduate Fellowship Given Hastings Student

Hastings—Roger E. Lamb, Hastings College senior, has been awarded a National Defense Graduate Fellowship worth approximately $10,000 for graduate study in philosophy at the University of Rochester, Rochester, N.Y., it was announced Friday.



Lamb

Lamb, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Lamb of the Hastings College faculty, was notified of his award by Robert H. Bruce of the higher education division of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The award is for 3 years and provides $2,000 for the first year, $2,200 for the second and $2,400 for the 3rd. In addition, tuition charges of about $1,300 per year are refunded.

Blaze Leaves One Dead, 3 Others Hurt

The victim made his home with his brother, John Grandinetti, 50, his wife, Mildred, 38, and their 9-year-old daughter, Susan.

John was listed in serious condition at the hospital where his brother died about 7 a.m. Mrs. Grandinetti's condition and that of the little girl were described as fair.

Neighbors told investigators they were awakened by an explosion and saw the Grandinetti home ablaze. Joe Sapienza, who lives nearby told officers that Susan was handed out of a window by her father to an unidentified man before firemen arrived.

Sapienza said Grandinetti then apparently was overcome by smoke. He and his wife were later rescued from the burning home by firemen.

Immanuel Grandinetti occupied an upstairs bedroom in the story and a half frame house. Firemen said they found him outside his bedroom door.

Fireman Injured

A fireman, James Anderson, 29, suffered severe burns on the hand when he grabbed a doorknob inside the burning house. He was treated at a hospital and released.

Fire Chief Eugene Fields said the "explosion" neighbors reported hearing actually was the sound of the windows of the Grandinetti home bursting. He said the fire apparently had been smoldering for some time and the intense heat finally broke out the windows.

Fields said the fire apparently started in the living room, and may have been caused by faulty wiring.

Interest Rate On Long Term Farm Mortgages Down

Omaha (AP) — The Federal Land Bank of Omaha announced Friday a reduction of interest rates on long term farm mortgage loans from 6% to 5½%.

Thomas A. Maxwell Jr., president of the land bank, said the reduction would apply to outstanding loans as well as to new loans. He said loan rates are governed by the cost of funds obtained through land bank bonds to investors and interest costs have been going down in recent months.

The Federal Land Bank of Omaha has about $55 million in 6% loans outstanding in Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming.

public official is accused of being politically motivated.

Meyer contended that it was unfair to the prisoners for him to sit on the board because of his dual role as chief prosecutor for the state.

Specialized Work

Marsh said the study of criminology has become highly specialized and the board needed people trained in the field to serve on it.

The bill's chief introducer, Sen. Edwin McHugh of Murdock, said the employment of professional men would cost more money, but he added that the state could also save money by paroling more prisoners with a board that could devote more time to their work.

Morris told the committee that the present board members were only "belittling themselves" because he said they were doing a very good job.

The committee also heard and advanced LB204 by a 7-0 vote.

LB204 removes the requirement that separate non-political ballots be printed for election of directors of metropolitan utilities districts and requiring candidates for directorships to file with the election commissioner.

Budget Likely Battleground

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With his budget message to Congress, President John F. Kennedy has, for the first time since his election, become vulnerable to attack from his opposition. By calling for a 1962 budget that will run an estimated $2.1 billion in the red, Kennedy has given the Republicans the kind of ammunition they like the most. If GOP leaders fail to attack the President on this score, then Kennedy is simply leading a charmed life.

Democratic leaders will have an answer but it appears at the moment to be involving the use of mirrors. They speak plainly of former President Eisenhower's tendency to over-estimate revenues and underestimate expenditures. The Kennedy budget for 1962 will run a total of $2.1 billion in the red, according to administration estimates. But they seem to have credited this to Eisenhower on the basis that he under-estimated certain defense spending by $300 million and over-estimated revenues by $1.8 billion—a total Eisenhower error of $2.1 billion, just equal to the Kennedy deficit.

Democratic Reflection

Kennedy stressed that his non-military programs "have been carefully limited" to revenues forecast by Eisenhower in January. Therefore, he argued, "should there be a deficit in 1962 it will be the consequence of over-estimation of revenues and under-estimation of expenditures in the January (Eisenhower) budget."

It is possible that what Kennedy says is right. It is possible that our own mental calculators just are not working very well but such reasoning leaves us all twisted up inside. What bothers us the most is the simple fact that Kennedy proposes to spend $82.3 billion in 1962 against revenue of $81.4 billion for a net loss of $1.8 billion.

This compares with an Eisenhower budget for 1962 submitted last January of $80.9 billion in expenditures and $82.3 billion in receipts. Eisenhower may well have been wrong in January, as he was consistently wrong on his estimates, but Kennedy's figures belong to Kennedy, not to Eisenhower. It would seem to make little difference how one cuts the melon if every possibility produces a shortage. Kennedy is going to have a tough time laying his 1962 budget deficit on Eisenhower's doorstep.

These things are pointed out because it is important that there be a full understanding of the situation on the part of the public and areas of responsiblity should always be clearly understood. There may well even be an importance that Kennedy himself has not yet seen. It is possible that the President is seeking to protect himself too much in the political arena and losing sight of some of the things of which he spoke during his campaign and in his inaugural address. In some respects, he touched upon these things in his budget remarks but his political defense of his budget predominated.

Kennedy spoke in terms of long-range balancing of the budget and while such a philosophy would find violent disagreement in all conservative circles, it is not without logic. He suggested there was merit in showing a budget deficit in slack economic periods and an excess in periods of higher prosperity. The question here would be whether what might be good in theory could or would come about in actual practice.

The deficit in slack periods would be easy enough but the surplus in good times is another thing. Kennedy also remarked that "it is my determined purpose to be a prudent steward of the public funds — to obtain a dollar's worth of results for every dollar we spend." And he spoke of matching the federal budget to demands or needs as well as to the nature of the economy at any particular time.

Explanation Of Deficit

These thoughts are much more in line with the method the President should be using in defending his budget. He may as well face up to the fact that he proposes a deficit in fiscal 1962, beginning this July 1, and he can't pass it off to Eisenhower. He should then go on, as he has done in the past, to tell the nation why such a deficit is necessary and what the returns of it are going to be. Not everyone in this nation subscribes to the philosophy that there are certain limits all along the way to which the national budget must be tied. There are many who believe that we simply must spend what is essential for meeting our responsibilities.

It is their thinking that if what we have to spend is more than our economy can bear and that bankruptcy on a national scale would be the eventual end, then the system is hardly defensible. But it is also their conviction that this is not the case and that our system is fully capable of supporting whatever program is demanded to meet our international obligations and take full advantage of our national potential.

District Of Columbia Winning

Rhode Island the other day cast the thirty-fifth vote in favor of the proposed twenty-third amendment to the Constitution which would grant to the District of Columbia the right to participate in the election of the president.

It can be assumed that the amendment will succeed. The running score by states gives 35 for it to one against. Only Arkansas thus far has voted no. Only 38 favorable votes are required for the amendment's adoption. New Hampshire and Ohio legislatures have the amendment proposal in the works where lack of substantial opposition indicates approval momentarily.

Denial of the vote to District of Columbia people may have had some slight merit during the infancy of the republic. The gift of land by Maryland and Virginia as the location of the new capital recognized no development as a state, but rather a piece of neutral ground. And in the beginning the main residential force was not only small, but mostly confined to government service and those who were there could exercise their franchise as residents of home states. There was also the belief that federal servants ought to be limited in the franchise for fear of a government dominated by its parts. There was something especially transitory about such views. Urbanization came to the district and the place became the permanent residence of an increasing number who as the generations passed lost their refuge as home state voters.

By modern times there was little left of the franchise. The District of Columbia has no congressional representation, cannot help select a president and is even under the disability of living in a city, Washington, not run by a locally elected government. The administration of Washington is a federal responsibility.

Approval of the present amendment proposal will remedy at least a part of that.

Can't Help Wondering

It would be fascinating to know the mental workings of legislative bodies and some of those who give testimony before such bodies. The Legislature's committee on public health and miscellaneous subjects has killed a proposed humane slaughter bill after hearing from both advocates and enemies of the measure.

What it was that caused the committee to make up its mind is anybody's guess but it probably wasn't the testimony that was given. Quite frankly, we haven't given much study to the slaughter of animals and, therefore, want to pass no judgment on the merits or shortcomings of the proposed legislation. The only point of interest is the logic of testimony given.

Opponents to the measure said there was no need for the bill since federal regulations called for humane slaughtering and those regulations were being followed. However, if this were the case, it would seem that it would make little difference whether the bill was passed or not. If federal regulations were humane and the state law was for humane practices, then the state measure, at worst, would simply be a duplication of no effect.

From reports made on the hearing, it would appear that testimony never got around to what various people actually thought was humane. The truth probably is that opponents of the measure simply didn't want to use the practices proposed in the bill and their position had little to do with any humane considerations. This doesn't mean that current practices are inhumane but it indicates that there is a multitude of testimony given before public bodies and much of it is way off the point at issue. Expressions of true feelings are probably a rarity in such testimony.

Editorial Of The Day

To Legislate Unemployment?

From The Christian Science Monitor

Debate in the House of Representatives on the minimum wage bill spotlights a contradiction in avowed aims of the Kennedy administration. Is it primarily interested in reducing unemployment and does it intend to try to restrain the wage-price spiral or does it seek political reward for ostensibly raising wages?

An economist of the AFL-CIO has presented a survey of 13 states which in the last few years have raised their legal minimums for retail store employment to $1 an hour. This purports to show that such employment has not suffered but often increased. Yet if allowance is made for cyclical business trends, the stability of retailing as compared with manufacturing and the general increase of service employment, the report is unconvincing.

More to the point in the immediate business circumstances seems a survey of the specific types of stores affected by an increase which went into effect in Pennsylvania in January, this year. It indicates that a year-long decline in employment of 2 or 3 per cent was turned into a 6 per cent drop in three weeks.

There is a persuasive case to be made for bringing somewhere between one and four million workers under the present $1 an hour federal minimum who are not now covered by it. But it is difficult to see how the present minimum can be raised to $1.15 within four months, as proposed, without impairing job opportunities for many of five million now out of work, especially the unskilled, the young and the elderly.

If it be argued that the administration wishes to increase the buying power in circulation, let the question be asked: Is there any more buying power in a wage of $1.15 that you don't get than in a wage of $1 that you don't get?

Laos Crisis Shows Consistent Pattern

WASHINGTON—The hurried, earnest huddles of President Kennedy with diplomatic and military advisers over a jungle country in Southeast Asia have a reminiscent ring. They recall other hurried, harassed meetings of another president with the same advisers over the same country nearly eight years ago.

And although the crisis over Laos has a "this-is-where-I-came-in" aspect, and although the problem is not easy for Mr. John Q. Citizen to understand, the alternatives of war or appeasement are very real and very grave.

It was shortly after he became president that Dwight D. Eisenhower, like Kennedy today, faced a crisis in exactly the same area, then called French Indo-China. And early in his administration, April 1953, Ike warned the Red Chinese not to transfer their armies from a pacified Korea to attack Indo-China.

Despite these warnings, the Red Chinese did exactly what Eisenhower told them not to do. They sent arms and military advisers to Indo-China.

Seven years passed. The hand of fate now points to Indo-China again. This time, another of the three countries carved out of Indo-China is in danger of being swallowed by the Communists. Seven years ago it was predicted that the Reds would bide their time, then gradually penetrate the remaining countries of Indo-China.

And even as President Kennedy was taking the oath on Jan. 20, this prediction was in the process of fulfillment.

Kennedy now tried a different tack. He spoke gently but tried to carry a big stick. He spoke first through Ambassador Thompson to Premier Khrushchev when the two met in Siberia, telling him very firmly that the United States would send two rifles to the Laos government for every one Russia smuggled in to the rebels.

Kennedy was using the gentle voice. He was not making big public pronouncements, as did Eisenhower, Nixon and Dulles. But the results were the same. Unfortunately the big stick he carried had been whittled down by drastic cuts in the defense budget.

The situation now confronting President Kennedy and the United States might be compared with the position of France during the advances of Adolf Hitler in the 1930's when, step by step, he seized the Ruhr and the Rhineland, Austria and the Sudetenland. At first the French and British might have stopped him. After he acquired power and territory it was too late.

Today, the leaders of communist China and Russia may be counting on the same factors inside the USA which influenced France in in 1936-37-38 — complacency, hatred of war, unpreparedness. They also know that the Democrats have been branded as the war party, and that a new Democratic president might hesitate to open himself to another Republican charge of "war-mongering" for the sake of a little jungle country 8,000 miles away.

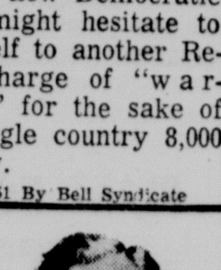
It Takes 3,000 To Handle U.S. Debt



WASHINGTON—The theme was our national debt, and the congressman dug up a shocking set of figures.

In the last eight years, said Rep. Otto Passman (D-La), the overburdened taxpayers of the United States shelled out more dollars in federal taxes than had all the citizens put together in the first 164 years of our government.

The congressman plopped this figure before a witness at the Treasury Department appropriations hearing. The witness: an imperturbably handsome gentleman, Douglas Dillon, our secretary of the treasury.

Representative Passman pressed his discovery further. Said he: not only did Uncle Sam collect $53 billion more from the taxpayers in the last eight years than in the 164 preceding years, but he borrowed an additional $23 billion—which he also spent!

"Does it," he asked of Secretary Dillon, "appear alarming to you—or am I just unduly alarmed?"

The secretary of the treasury sidestepped the direct question but calmly stated that President John F. Kennedy had said he is going to stick to a sound fiscal policy . . .

Now, came the next query: What will we do about our national debt? "Should we ignore the public debt," said Passman, with these tremendous revenues accruing to the country?"

At that point, they called time out for lunch. When they resumed, Dillon had his reply.

No, he said, we won't ignore it. We would enlarge it. The debt, he said, will climb another billion or more in 1962, and it may not be until 1963 or later that we can start thinking of reducing it.

Our public debt has become so great and complicated that the Treasury Department has set up a bureau of the debt.

☆ ☆ ☆

The bureau works on the order of the parent Treasury Department, which manages the money we have. The Bureau of the Public Debt manages money we don't have.

An interesting point came out of the closed-door testimony: It costs more to manage debt than it does to manage income.

This year, the debt handlers—which number nearly 3,000 employes—are spending $48,318,000 to oversee our shortage of money.

But the Bureau reported optimistically it expects to cut its spending next year to $48,200,000.

That's a possible net saving to taxpayers of $118,000. And if it's of any solace to you, that amounts to four-millionths of one percent of our national debt . . .

THE TALES CHRIST TOLD

The Good Shepherd

By APRIL OURSLER ARMSTRONG

He was not a man to be intimidated, that was certain. "Meek," He did call Himself, and "mild." "Gentle Jesus," men would call Him in later years.

But it was His audacity that dazzled the eyes of Jerusalem.

He was the most controversial figure of the day. Half the country believed He might well be the Christ. The other half expected His firmly deserved arrest and death at any moment. The city of Jerusalem, her narrow-stepped streets ajostle with Pilgrims for the Feast of Tabernacles, bustled with gossip about Him.

The Pharisees were consumed with the urgent desire to destroy Him. Even travelers from the north, come for the feast, knew that. But here, in the bared teeth of danger, this Jesus was teaching openly in the Temple. And what He was saying was either revelation or blasphemy — depending on Who and What He really was.

The bazaars hummed with the latest sayings and doings of Jesus. The inns, the squares where pilgrims camped, were loud with debate.

And then, on that Sabbath, He flaunted His power with an unforgettable miracle, the cure of a man known to be blind since birth. The man was practically a civic landmark. He had been sitting begging outside the Temple for more than twenty years. And Jesus spat on some dirt, made a clay poultice for his eyes, and sent him to wash in the pool of Siloe. The man was healed.

The Pharisees tried desperately to make it out to be a hoax and finally, when the man kept insisting he was cured, when they could see for themselves that his eyes were in fine repair, they threw him bodily out of the Temple.

Jesus found him—Jesus, and His disciples, and the crowd that pressed through the labyrinthine streets below the Temple. And it was there, in front of everyone, that Jesus said to the unblind man!

"Do you believe in the Son of God?"

The man turned newly found sight on Jesus. "Who is He, Lord, that I may believe in Him?"

And Jesus said: "You have seen Him—and it is He Who is talking with you."

The once blind man fell on his knees, his face pressed to the dusty cobbles of the street, to worship Jesus. And he said: "I believe, Lord!"

The Pharisees sneered and gibed in horror. But the crowd listened, and waited.

It was then that Jesus told the parable the world remembers as the tale of the good shepherd—the challenging assertion of His true mission.

"I say to you that the man who enters not by the door into the sheepfold but climbs up another way is a thief and robber," said Jesus.

And His voice, crisp and calm as a meadow morning, brought with it the sudden picture of a steep wood-fenced pen in the country, nearly square, with one door only, carefully guarded against all danger.

The Pharisees blinked in bewilderment. The crowds, many of them country folk come on foot to the Temple for the holy day, drew closer as men do when caught by nostalgia and the familiar away from home.

"But," said Jesus, "he who enters by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the watchman opens, and the sheep hear his voice, and he calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. And when he has let out his own sheep he goes before them, and the sheep follow him because they know his voice.

"But a stranger they will not follow, but will run away from him because they know not the voice of strangers."

There was a melody to His voice, and men listening in that strange end-of-summer twilight felt a stirring in their hearts, as if in answer to Him.

The Pharisees drew a deep breath. They knew, everyone knew, that shepherds were sordid men, beyond the pale of moral and divine respectability.

The Legacy

Hastings, Neb.

Grain surpluses in Nebraska are second only to the inconsistency on which the GOP elephant feeds. We had an eight-year parade of peace at any price, and on Russia's terms. Many of our most reliable columnists have pointed out the mistakes as they were made and the fact that Russia gave no points, major or minor. Our prestige slipped from an all-time high in 1952 to an all-time low in 1960. There is an all-time high on unemployment and world trouble spots from giving in to Russia on every front.

And now comes Fred Seaton and others to criticize the method of the heirs of these eight years of magic wand diplomacy. The mistakes have never been denied and cannot be disputed, as they are still staring us in the face in all directions and all over the globe. Fred Seaton knows it is time to quit politics. He should know such statements as he is making at this time and such conditions make him a very small person.

Sales Tax

Avoca, Neb.

Before our lawmakers consider broadening the tax base, let's hope they check into the law which takes the state out of the property tax. Would this be an opportunity for large-scale tax evasion by large selfish interests? Would the state cease to have jurisdiction over methods of taxing property? If this law should produce such results, we could see great variations in taxing methods from county to county.

If all our citizens realized that the state portion is a very small part of their taxes, they wouldn't consider a broadened tax base under this basis.

If a sales or income tax is needed, why can't the money collected be pro-rated to each school district according to the number of children, the amount per child the same regardless of where the school is. This would give relief to all property owners equally, as the maintaining of schools which we must have is the large burden on property, not the small state levy.

Many people have been deceived by the wording of this law. It is appalling the number of people who believe if this bill goes through, there will be no more property tax.

The proponents of the sales tax have farmers believing they are paying more than their share of taxes. They fail to tell the amount of taxes which the railroads, pipelines, electric and telephone companies pay in the rural areas. Also there are many large factories, construction companies, pumping stations, storage tanks, etc., which pay a lot of taxes in the rural areas.

The non-resident property owners would be very glad to see this bill go through. A large corporation can come into a community and buy up large holdings and get the benefit of this property tax reduction and the neighboring farmers will make it up with their pennies. A farmer will pay from $10 to $20 for every $8.43 he saves.

Another misleading statement by the pro-sales-tax forces is that farmers are paying 50 per cent of the taxes on a per capita basis. I have known places where one man in a small town of 200 paid over 50 per cent of the taxes because he owned 50 per cent of the property. Yet he was only one-half of one per cent of the population. I see nothing unfair about that. If the farmers own 50 per cent of the property, they should pay 50 per cent of the taxes, regardless of what per cent of the population they represent.

I farmed for years in Kansas where they have a sales tax, state income tax and higher property taxes than Nebraska. In Kansas we even had to furnish the children's school books.

We Nebraskans had better wake up before they force this tax on us. If the sales tax is so successful, why do the states that have it keep increasing their property tax and sales tax, too, if their governors don't veto it?

I would suggest that the property owners who don't like to pay real estate taxes sell their property and rent. I'm happy with the present tax set-up.

The Big Shift

Guide Rock, Neb.

Many people are confused. They wonder how they will be affected if the tax bill now before the Senate becomes law. I will now quote from Carver's Principles of National Economy:

"If we tax the products of industries, there is no surplus out of which the tax can be paid. As a result, we either raise their price or depress the price of the raw materials. If we tax labor, we must raise wages accordingly; if we tax enterprise, we must raise profits. Every tax, therefore, is shifted from one to another till it reaches the landowner, who alone has a surplus out of which it can be paid. The landowner cannot shift it any further."

Can you ride free or are you at the end of the line? It doesn't take pencil and paper to figure this one.

Sales Tax

Howells, Neb.

Those behind the sales tax predict that the combined proposition would extract $50 million from the households of our state. Such a prospect is breathtaking. Do these few groups fancy constructing a bottomless barrel from which unlimited amounts of gold may be distributed to who knows where?

I have some state figures for the 10 years from 1950 to 1960. Property tax, state maintenance collections (institutions, mansion, State House, Legislative expense) $22 million. Then the school levy, which gets divided among the counties and towns, $67 million. Thus the sales tax bite of $50 million makes the non-school property tax look puny. If we project the ratio to the national scene, it would be as if the President were asking for $165 billion all in one shot! Federal taxes are one thing, but excessive state taxes must be forestalled.

Everywhere we inquire, the ordinary folks are against the sales tax laws and pressures, and they are wise to the sort of planning which lies behind the combined three-way tax.

Off THE RECORD By Ed. Reed

"How sympathetic do I have to be doctor?"

The Tales Christ Told: 'The Good Shepherd'

"Amen, amen, I say to you—I am the door of the sheep.

"And as many as have come before Me are thieves and robbers and the sheep have not heard them. I am the door. If any man enters in by Me, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pastures.

"The thief comes only to steal and to kill and to destroy. I am come that they may have life, and may have it more abundantly."

For the Pharisees, at least, Jesus made the answer to the unspoken question instantly plain with His next words.

"I am the Good Shepherd," He said.

And as He spoke their Scripture trained minds flew at once back to the scrolls of the prophets, to what we call the tenth chapter of Isaias, to the twenty-third of Jeremias, but most of all to the Book of Ezekiel: the thirty-eighth chapter of God through His prophet some six hundred years before Christ.

There, in verses of branding clarity, God had rebuked the religious leaders of Israel for leading His sheep astray, for not feeding and tending them in the truth, for stealing from them, and abandoning them, while growing fat themselves. And there, in old Scriptures, God had promised that He would rid Himself of these shepherds and send a new Shepherd, of the house of David—the Messiah!

"I am the Good Shepherd," said Jesus, His clear dark eyes meeting theirs.

"The Good Sheperd lays down His life His sheep. But the hireling, the man who is not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, sees the wolf coming and leaves the sheep and runs away. The wolf catches and scatters the sheep. And the hireling runs away because he is a hireling and has no care for the sheep."

He lowered His head, the shadows crossing and falling on His brow. And those closest to Him, the Twelve, remembered that He had so often told them in these last days that He would suffer and die. The Good Shepherd lays down His life . . .

"I am the Good Shepherd." His voice, stronger now, riding a new current of love, repreated the words of promise. "And I know Mine, and Mine know Me, even as the Father knows Me and I know the Father. And—I lay down My life for My sheep!"

He raised His head, searching the silently growing throng pressed now into doorways and side steps, clogging the street. Gentiles were in that throng, visitors to Jerusalem from all over the Empire. Here and there a Roman face, a Greek, Ethiopian . . .

"And other sheep I have," said Jesus, "that are not of this fold. Them also must I bring, and they shall hear My voice. And there shall be one flock and one Shepherd."

It was a daring statement, imbedded in tones of startling tenderness.

Jesus smiled ever so slightly. "Therefore," He said, "the Father loves Me, because I lay down My life that I may take it up again." He flung a sharp glance at His enemies. "No man takes it away from Me. I lay it down Myself! I have the power to lay it down—and I have the power it take it up again. This is the command I have received from My Father."

For a breath, silence blocked the darkening street. Then Pharisee voices rose in carefully pitched laughter.

"He's possessed by a devil!" they said. "He's mad. Why listen to Him?"

But behind them and around them voices answered:

'Those aren't the words of a man who has a devil."

"Can a devil open the eyes of the blind? He healed this blind man, you know."

In the crackle and prattle of argument Jesus waved a hand in farewell at the man who now could see, and quietly found His way through the crowd and on into the turbulence of Jerusalem at night.

In those few moments He had given the world the parable of His mission on earth and of His Church. Grappling Old Testament and New, prophecy and fulfillment, He had in that tale of the shepherd dying to save his sheep summed up redemption. Freely He would die at the Father's will, to ransom His own.

The words of Ezekiel, the prophet in Babylon, had come true. No longer would the self-centered Pharisees claim to be shepherds. The new Shepherd, a prince of the royal line of David, had come. And from that day on only those who entered in Him could guide His flocks.

All this would eleven of the Twelve remember on that day to come on the shore of Galilee when Jesus, having laid down His life and taken it up again, would say to Peter:

"Feed My sheep . . .

"Feed My lambs . . ."

Centuries later men would fashion a sweet memory of the Good Shepherd—tender, gentle, sweet-faced. But those who heard Him that evening in Jerusalem knew that He was also flamboyant and daring, firm as a countryman armed against the beasts.

Retired Orchard Publisher Is Dead

Plainview (AP) — Chauncey Everhart, 76, retired publisher of the Orchard News, died in a hospital Friday after suffering a paralytic stroke several days ago.

He had published the News for 40 years prior to selling out 3 years ago. Only last year he and Mrs. Everhart celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

Besides his wife, Mr. Everhart is survived by a son, Harold, who operates a store in Sargent; and a daughter, Mrs. Leona Voorhies, wife of George F. Voorhies, the publisher of the Elgin Review.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Dalton Featuring Family Contests

Dalton (AP) — The Dalton School Board race in the April 4 election has become a family contest.

Clayton Gillespie will oppose his brother Cleve Gillespie for one school board post and Clarence Ziegler will be opposed by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Roy Ziegler for another post.

No Significance

Tokyo (AP) — Starting April 1, "Rock-a-Bye Baby" here will mean the garbage man cometh. The Sanitation Department is equipping its trucks with recordings of the lullaby to replace the traditional bell-ringer who has marched ahead inviting the people to set out the leftovers. The choice of tune has no significance, officials said—it's just available, simple and known to all.

Adlai, Gromyko Hold More Talks

United Nations, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson had another private conference Friday on issues pending before the U.N. General Assembly.

Gromyko was host at a 2-hour luncheon at the Soviet U.N. mission on New York's Park Avenue. A U.S. spokesman said the two discussed "matters of mutual interest, including problems before the general assembly."

Gromyko is expected to leave Saturday for the Soviet Union. He and Stevenson have been seeking agreement on a formula for resuming East-West disarmament negotiations. Valerian A. Zorin, Soviet deputy foreign minister, would be available in the event of future U.S.-Soviet talks.

Occupational Center Gets $19,000 Gifts

The Occupational Training Center for the Mentally Retarded, operated by Lincoln Goodwill Industries, Inc., has announced the receipt of $5,000 from the Woods Charitable Fund Inc., and $14,000 from the federal government.

The Woods donation was the second of two $5,000 installments, while the government's $14,000 was the first of two installments totalling $27,000, which is to finance one-half of the center's 1961 budget, according to Del Lindholm, center director.

He reported that 46 persons have availed themselves of the services of the center since its opening May 2, 1960. Of these, 6 have received jobs upon completion of training, and 3 others are awaiting placement, he said.

Lindholm said the center has had inquiries from Missouri, Kansas, and other surrounding states. He pointed out that although there is a center in Kansas City and another in Des Moines, Lincoln's center is the only one in the nation which offers both an agriculture and industrial program.

Scott Briggs, 18, Prominent Exeter Youth, Is Dead

Exeter — Funeral services for Scott Allan Briggs, 18, will be at 1:30 p.m. Sunday in the Exeter Methodist Church. His death followed an illness.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Briggs, he was captain of the Exeter High School basketball team and active in music, journalism and the student council at school. He also served as president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

THOU SHALT NOT COVET

Covet means wanting what your fellowman owns. God says, "Thou Shalt Not Covet." Some precious things and people rightfully belong to another . . . don't sin by craving them. That way lies selfishness and unloving personality that hurts both God and the guilty. This tenth commandment is a sort of climax and summary of all that have gone before. You shall not covet what is God's. You shall not covet another day of toil beyond the sixth. You shall not covet honor that belongs to your parents. You shall not covet another's life. You shall not covet another's person. You shall not covet the goods of another. It is written . . . "Thou Shalt Not Covet."

The Lord handed down The Law, The Ten Commandments, through one man . . . Moses. The impact of this story upon our lives will remain forever in man's quest for truth and freedom.
Ministers of all faiths and the community-minded firms below persuade you to read the Commandment commentary above and make it a part of your life . . . it is your heritage.*

Boy Almost Born Again

...'VEGETABLE 10 DAYS'

Chicago (UPI) — It was almost as if the 2½-year-old boy had been born again.

Little Kemal S. Yon, son of Dr. M. Kemal Yon, had acute bronchitis. Physicians at St. Luke's Hospital, where his father was on the staff, had performed a tracheotomy, opening his wind pipe to allow him to breath.

Kemal was sitting up, apparently recovering, and eating ice cream when, suddenly, a complete breath obstruction occurred. His heart stopped.

Feeble Beat

Doctors injected heart stimulants and prepared to open his chest to massage the heart in an effort to restore its beat. But the drugs took effect and between 5 and 7 minutes after the stoppage, doctors detected a feeble beat.

Still, the case was all but hopeless. Kemal went into convulsions, a sign of permanent brain damage. He was unable to see, hear, swallow or react to stimuli. There were signs of paralysis. There was every indication his brain had died.

The doctors refused to give up hope. They lowered Kemal's body temperature to 94 degrees to prevent further brain damage. They injected a drug, dilantin sodium, to control the convulsions. They injected another, urea, to reduce the brain swelling. A salt solution was dripped into his throat to induce coughing. Physical therapy was ordered to prevent muscle deterioritation.

His mother — a nurse — and some of her former classmates came to take care of him.

Spontaneous

Finally, after 10 days in a virtual vegetable state, there was a spontaneous movement of the left ankle. Then the boy moved his knee, finally his hip. Finally Kemal moved his head.

Kemal began to recognize his mother, to laugh, to cry. But it was as though he was a tiny baby, learning anew the things children much younger know and that Kemal had once known.

He was taken home, where he learned to slide, to crawl, to hold, to grasp, to sit, to reach, and finally to walk and to run.

No Evidence

That was more than two years ago. Kemal is 5 now, a normal boy in every way. There is no evidence of brain damage.

Kemal's remarkable recovery was detailed in an article in the current issue of the journal of the American Medical Association. It was written by his father and 4 other doctors.

"We thought we ought to report it because it shows you should never give up hope," his father said.

Dr. Max Sadove, head of anesthesiology at the University of Illinois Hospital, said, "you couldn't credit any human for this sequence of events. People don't make miracles."

Utica Woman Given $20,000 In Damage Suit

Mrs. Dixie Giebelman of Utica was awarded $20,000 damages from Fred P. Vap of McCook Friday by a District Court jury.

Mrs. Giebelman, 22, had alleged she suffered permanent neck and back injury when the car in which she was riding was in collision with a car owned by Vap and driven by his son, Gerald, 20, a University of Nebraska student.

The accident occurred Sept. 7, 1959, at the junction of 40th St. and the State 2 cutoff. The Giebelman car, driven by her husbabnd, John, was westbound on the cutoff when it was in collision with the Vap car, which was northbound on 40th St.

Mrs. Giebelman claimed that the Vap car failed to yield the right-of-way and also alleged it violated a stop sign.

State To Pay Less For Gas, Other Items

By Betty Person

Governor Frank Morrison announced Friday that the state has reached an agreement with two different oil companies to provide gas and other items for state-owned automobiles at a reduced rate.

Frontier Refining Co. and American Petrofina have agreed to provide gasoline at 4 cents per gallon under the retail price, and to reduce other items by 6%, the governor said at his weekly press conference.

State Purchasing Agent George Morris has spent considerable time getting this accomplished, Morrison said, adding that it had been sought for a number of years.

The governor had no estimate on the amount of savings, but said it would "run into many thousands of dollars."

Asked if he thought other companies might also agree to it, Morrison said perhaps they would, and added that all the state was seeking was "competitive bidding."

Committee Named

Morrison also announced his appointment of a 4-man committee to make arrangements for the Centennial Celebration of the Homestead Act at Beatrice in June, 1962.

The nation's first homestead was established near Beatrice in May, 1862, by Daniel Freeman.

Named to the governor's committee were: W. D. Aeschbacher, director of the Nebraska State Historical Society; State Engineer John Hossack; State Game Commission Director Mel Steen, and David Osterhout, director of the Division of Nebraska Resources.

ADDED TERMS GIVEN TO 2

Two State Penitentiary inmates received additional prison terms on bad check charges Friday from District Judge Paul White.

Peter R. Wilson, 25, and Donald C. Hudson, 41, both were sentenced to two additional years in the penitentiary. Wilson had pleaded guilty to issuing a $60 insufficient-fund check Nov. 26, 1957, and Hudson to having a $12 forged check in his possession April 7, 1960.

Authorities said Wilson admitted passing $1,246.80 worth of bad checks in Lincoln. He currently is serving a bad check term from another county.

Hudson, who reportedly has 9 previous felony convictions, passed $172 in bad checks here.

SON FOLLOWS DAD, INTO JAIL

Police brought in Kenneth Webster, 17, for questioning about the rifling of a coin box at a self-service laundry.

As he reached his cell, Kenneth spotted a familiar face. He said:

"Hiya, dad. You here, too?"

"Hiya, son," said Kaiser Webster, 43.

Scientists Heavily In Favor Of Adding Fluoride To Water

Boston (AP)—Scientists said Friday they favored adding fluoride to drinking water in most areas to improve nutrition, teeth and health, but recommended reducing the proportion naturally found in water in some places.

But they further said research has shown there is no place in the country where fluoride in drinking water harms health. They explained, however, that in a few places where the percentage was too high it could cause mottling of teeth unless the proportion is reduced to the optimum amount.

The scientists were members of a panel of medical and dental researchers from coast to coast, assembled at the annual meeting of the International Association for Dental Health. Members of the panel, in a news conference, said fluoride is a nutritional substance naturally found in a wide range of foods. The range is so wide, they commented, that it was almost impossible to work out a diet free of fluoride for experimental animals.

Fluoride occurs in ample amounts in many kinds of fish, ranges down to a trace in refined sugar and even occurs in substantial proportions in tea, they said.

Dr. Vincent F. Lisanti, director of the Institute of Stomatological Research, Sias Laboratories, Brooks Hospital, Brookline, Mass., said stronger tooth enamel from fluoridation of water could ultimately save dental patients $300 million to $500 million a year. He said overall dental benefits might reach billions.

Dr. Wallace Armstrong, head of physiological chemistry, University of Minnesota, said it would cost 10 to 15 cents per person per year.

Dr. Finn Brudevold, director of clinical dentistry Forsyth Dental Infirmary, and professor, Harvard University school of dentistry, said fluoride is not a medication but a nutrient.

Dr. Reidar Sognnaes, dean of the University of California, Los Angeles, school of dentistry, said it is not just a question of better teeth but rather a question of general "wellness." Teeth, he said, have an important bearing on "speech, appearance, total wellness—total health."

$900,000 ASKED FOR AINSWORTH

Washington — President Kennedy will ask Congress for permission to spend an additional $900,000 in the next fiscal year on the Ainsworth unit of the Missouri River basin project, it was reported Friday.

An Interior Department spokesman said this would be Nebraska's share of accelerated reclamation projects Kennedy is asking Congress to approve.

He said Congress will not have to appropriate the money but simply authorize the transfer of funds for other projects.

The Interior Department announcement followed Kennedy's budget request for a $22,390,000 water resources development program.

The White House said the appropriations sought would expedite surveys and planning of proposed water resources developments, provide for 19 new construction starts, speed up construction of a few going projects, and permit a minor increase in the supervisory staff of the office of the Army's chief of engineers.

Basic Principles Of Administration Given In Condensed Text Of President Kennedy's Budget Message

Washington (UPI) — Condensed text of President Kennedy's budget message:

This administration intends to adhere during the course of its term of office to the following basic principles:

1.—Federal revenue and expenditures levels must be adequate to meet effectively and efficiently those essential needs of the nation which require public support as well as, or in place of, private effort.

2.—Federal revenues and expenditures—the federal budget—should, apart from any threat to national security, be in balance over the years of the business cycle—running a deficit in years of recession when revenues decline and the economy needs the stimulus of additional expenditures—and running a surplus in years of prosperity, thus curbing inflation, reducing the public debt, and freeing funds for private investment.

3.—Because of the limits which our balance of payments deficit currently places upon the use of monetary policy, especially the lowering of short-term interest rates, as a means of stimulating economic growth and employment, fiscal policy—our budget and tax policies—must assume a heavier share of the responsibility.

4.—We will not waste our resources on inefficient or undesirable expenditure simply because the economy is slack—nor, in order to run a surplus, will we deny our people essential services or security simply because the economy is prosperous.

5.—We must not allow expenditures to rise of their own momentum, without regard to value received, prospective revenues, economic conditions, the possibilities of closing out old activities when initiating new ones, and the weight of current taxes on the individual citizen and the economy. It is my determined purpose to be a prudent student of the public funds—to obtain a dollar's worth of results for every dollar we spend.

The deficit inherited by this administration for fiscal 1961, augmented by the essential anti-recession and national security steps already taken or recommended to the Congress, is now estimated to total over $2 billion (in contrast with the $4.2 billion surplus originally predicted). But it must be remembered that fiscal 1961 is clearly a recession year, with all of the consequent effects upon both revenues and expenditures. The deficit of nearly $12.5 billion in fiscal 1959 serves as a recent reminder of the difficulties of balancing the budget in a recession year.

On January 30, I made the following pledge to the Congress:

"...A new administration must of necessity build on the spending and revenue estimates already submitted. Within that framework, barring the development of urgent national defense needs or a worsening economy, it is my current intention to advocate a program of expenditures which, including revenue from a stimulation of the economy, will not of and by themselves unbalance the earlier budget.

Omitting any increase in the defense budget too urgent to be denied by budgetary restrictions, and assuming that our review of the economy late in April does not require either a reduction in taxes or additional increases in expenditures, enactment of the new non-defense programs and appropriations I have transmitted will not unbalance the budget previously submitted by my predecessor

—If the Congress enacts or continues in effect all the revenue measures requested in that earlier budget, or preferably the alternative measures that I am requesting to achieve the same amount of revenue;

—If that earlier budget contained accurate estimates of the revenue to be produced by those measures, based on accurate assumptions about prospective economic conditions;

—If the Congress enacts no spending measures committing the executive branch to outlays in excess of those requested; and —If the earlier budget contained accurate estimates of those expenditures which must necessarily be incurred in fiscal 1962 under existing commitments covered by that budget regardless of Congressional or executive decisions.

I have already indicated in my message on the State of the Union that my predecessor's budget for fiscal 1962 "will remain in balance only if . . . an earlier and sharper up-turn in the economy than my economic advisers now think likely produces the tax revenues estimated."

The total expenditures estimated in the January budget were $80.9 billion. My proposals, apart from defense, will add about $2.3 billion for a total of $83.2 billion. The effects of my economic program on the economy would be reflected in additional revenues of about $900 million which, added to the January budget figures, would make a total of $83.2 billion of receipts, and leave the budget in balance.

This, then, is the revised budget—apart from defense additions—that I now present to the congress:

—A budget that is in balance in terms of my pledge of January 30;

—A budget that is likely to be in deficit unless economic conditions rapidly improve to meet the levels predicted in the January 16th budget;

—A budget that would be in surplus if the economy were operating at or near its full potential.

But before any new programs or budget increases could even be considered by this administration, we found upon a closer scrutiny that the budget omitted provision for substantial expenditures for which that administration was committed, and was based upon fundamental policy and program assumptions which neither this administration nor the congress could possibly accept, and which had to be altered at considerable cost to what little budgetary leeway remained.

For example:

(1) The previous administration committed itself, as we have also, to extend $100 million in assistance to Chile for reconstruction and rehabilitation in the wake of a devastating earthquake. But no estimate of expenditures to meet this commitment was included in the budget.

(2) The earlier budget recommended, as I do also, the construction of a new $114 million linear electron accelerator for high energy physics research. But appropriations to initiate this project were not specifically recommended in the budget.

(3) The earlier budget based its estimate of expenditures for the Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation on the assumption that price supports on every major commodity would be reduced to the lowest level permitted by law — reductions which were never formally recommended by the then secretary of agriculture, which would never be permitted by the congress and which would have been absolutely ruinous to our farm economy.

(4) The earlier budget recommended a program of federal aid to public schools, limited to aid for construction. But, under a highly unusual fiscal proposal, the budget itself included practically no expenditures for this activity.

This message is not intended to present a wholly new budget. For reasons already stated that is not possible for this fiscal year. Nor is it intended to propose any new programs or expenditures in the non-defense areas. With but a few exceptions, the items covered by this message and the attached table have been previously communicated, with full explanation, to the congress. This message is primarily intended to share with the congress my review of the non-defense changes in federal activities and expenditures already recommended to meet our nation's needs.

Among the most significant are the following:

Aid To Education. The largest single increase is in the field of education. Our educational needs have become too urgent to overlook. The federal government must do more to help finance improvements in this field—both for elementary and secondary education, and for higher education.

Funds for scientific research. My recommendations, largely in the form of amendments to the 1962 budget, provide a series of increases for scientific research.

Health. I have proposed significant measures to strengthen, improve and lower the cost of health care—with self-financed health insurance for the aged under social security at a net savings to the budget, assistance to medical schools and students, and grants to the states for expanded community health services and facilities.

Housing and community development. — I have recommended enactment of a program designed to greatly strengthen urban renewal and other existing programs, and add needed new authority in such important areas as moderate-income housing, rehabilitation and improvement of existing housing, and the preservation of open spaces.

Area Redevelopment. The tragedy of our chronically depressed areas, and the enormity of their challenge to our economy, require no less than the very reasonable program for aid to depressed areas which I have recommended and which I am confident that Congress will soon enact.

Natural resource development. I have proposed modest but symbolic increases in funds for conservation and development of forests and public domain lands, for the national park system and seashore recreational areas, and for navigation and flood control activities.

Agriculture. We propose to move vigorously in a wholly new direction, with an eventual reduction of governmental outlays. Meanwhile, in the short run, it is necessary to take various actions which will increase the 1962 expenditures over those seriously understated in the January budget. The increases are for price supports, Rural Electrification Administration and Farmers' Home Administration loans, the school lunch program and special milk program, and surplus food distribution at home and abroad.

Mention has already been made of the revenue estimates for fiscal 1962 and the necessity for congressional enactment of all measures necessary to produce those revenues. My earlier message on highways contained recommendations for the user taxes needed to assure a satisfactory rate of progress on highway construction at levels previously recommended by my predecessor. This administration will not permit funds for this program to be diverted from general revenues.

No Inconvenience Seen In New Driver's License Plan

State Motor Vehicle Director Al Scissors said Friday that "under no conditions should the driving public be inconvenienced" by the new driver's license program contained in LB349.

Scissors said he has received numerous inquiries from the driving public concerning operation of the system under LB349 which is pending in the Legislature.

"This bill is not intended to take any operators of motor vehicles off the road, but is intended to positively identify each and every licensed operator in the state," Scissors said.

The bill calls for certified issuance by the state prior to the receiving of the actual license by the driver. This means, in effect, that all persons applying for driver's license renewals or new applications will continue to apply at the county treasurer's office in their home county for such license.

At the time of application, the county treasurer will fill out the application form instead of the actual license as in the past.

"After the form has been filled out and veriifed by the applicant, a photo of the applicant will also be taken, right in the county treasurer's office," scissors said.

He said the entire procedure should not take any longer than 10 seconds more than the present system.

The treasurer will then give the applicant one copy of the application to drive on for a period of 60 days, Scissors said.

He said the application and film are sent to the state for processing and certification by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

"This involves checking to see if the applicant is currently under suspension or has any action pending against him that would prevent him from securing a driver's license," Scissors said.

He said the system would help to eliminate the counterfeiting of drivers' licenses and the possiblity of switching of licenses by persons who are similar in physical appearance.

Also under the new system, following the expiration of drivers' licenses in 1963, all operators will be renewing on their birthday instead of Sept. 1, he said.

"This should relieve the tremendous work load that is now created in the county treasurers' offices with all licenses being renewed between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1," he said.

The bill is the result of an interim study made by the legislative council study committee on traffic safety.

The proposal was introduced by Sens. Joe T. Vosoba of Wilber and Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island.

Abandonment Of Seward-Fremont Track Is Asked

The Chicago & North Western Railway Company has requested permission to abandon its track from the Seward area to Platte River Junction near Fremont, the Nebraska Railway Commission reported Friday.

A hearing on the application will be held Monday in the Capitol.

A commission spokesman said the towns of Bee, Dwight, Brainard, Bruno, Linwood, Abie and Morse Bluff would be affected. No passenger trains are currently operating on the route.

In other action, the railway commission ordered the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Co. and the Union Pacific Railroad Co. to submit revenue evidence on 5 stations, Edgar, Central City, St. Paul, Wahoo and David City.

The two firms have requested authority to establish joint agents at the cities in order to reduce expenses.

DOUGLAS COUNTY DECISION REVERSED

The State Supreme Court Friday reversed the Douglas County District Court in a case involving interpretation of a will.

Wayne T. Carroll and Thomas L. Carroll, as trustees of the estate of the late Thomas L. Carroll, brought the action against Hastings College, the Presbyterian Church of Gothenburg, other beneficiaries of the will and the United States National Bank of Omaha, another trustee.

The will provided for annual payments to the church and to relatives until such time as these relatives had all died, at which time the remainder of the estate would go to Hastings College.

The district court held that provisions of the will permitted the trustees to increase the specific amounts paid to the beneficiaries so long as the income from the trust would permit such increase. But the court held that the body of the trust could be used only if the income was insufficient to pay the specific amounts bequeathed.

The supreme court, in reversing the decree, held that the late Mr. Carroll intended that money for the payments could be drawn from the body of the trusts.

The high court authorized the trustees "to pay any and all funds to beneficiaries except such as are needed to carry out the purpose of the trust to the date of termination, the date of the death of the last grandchild who was living at the death of the testator." The court cautioned the trustees to provide "ample margins of safety," however.

COURT RULING IS AFFIRMED

The State Supreme Court held Friday that the Nemaha County District Court acted correctly in dismissing an action brought by LeRoy E. and Gertie B. Elliott against the city of Auburn, its officials, and the Nemaha County treasurer.

The Elliotts brought the action to enjoin the collection of paving improvement special assessments against their property in Auburn. Plaintiffs contended that the assessment was illegal, fraudulent, void, without authority of law and of no force and effect.

The Elliotts, in appealing to the supreme court, listed various alleged errors, including a contention that the law under which the paving district was formed is unconstitutional. The supreme court found otherwise.

Also affirmed was a Richardson County District Court judgment in favor of George Pupkes in an auto accident case brought by Pupkes against Oral V. Wilson, doing business as Wilson Beer Distributor.

Pupkes lost the case first in Lancaster District Court but appealed to the supreme court and the case was remanded for a new trial. Pupkes then brought the action in Richardson County District Court and a jury found in his favor.

The accident on which the action was based occurred in 1955.

Railroad Labor Unions Try To Block Mergers

...TELL KENNEDY THEY'LL HARM ECONOMY

Washington (AP)— Railroad labor unions Friday appealed to the White House and Congress to block further rail mergers until something is done about unemployment.

The unions made public an exchange with President Kennedy in which the President said the problem is serious and warrants a study of possible "corrective measures."

Kennedy assigned Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg to consult with government agencies, including the Interstate Commerce Commission, and come up with recommendations.

George Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks went into a huddle with Goldberg and with other union chiefs.

Harrison said the union plans to seek legislation next week declaring a moratorium on railroad consolidations.

Goldberg told newsmen he regarded the merger problem as serious. He said he intended to discuss it with the unions, railroad management, government officials before reporting back to Kennedy.

Harrison and fellow union chiefs in the Railway Labor Executives Association protested to Kennedy that the ICC is sanctioning mergers without regard for the economic effect.

They said this goes against Kennedy's own program of trying to curb unemployment and encourages expansion.

The unions estimated mergers now under way would wipe out 200,000 jobs at a time when the rail work force, at 700,000, is the smallest since the turn of the century.

Harrison said the unions want a government study made to plan regional railroad setups that can accommodate national transportation needs. He said only the most profitable railroads are being merged.

Require Aid

The least profitable, he said, are being bypassed so that they will probably require government aid or even control if they are to remain in business.

For example, he said, the Atlantic Coast Lines and Seaboard are considering a consolidation that, he said, could squeeze out the Florida East Coast Line.

Similarly, he said there is no excuse for a contemplated merger of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington roads, nor for attempts by Southern Pacific and Sante Fe roads to take over the Western Pacific.

Airmen Fined For Contributing

Two Lincoln Air Force Base airmen were fined $250 each Friday in County Court on a contributing to the delinquency of a minor charge.

Louis B. Dixon, 19, and Nocomes Clingman, 23, had both pleaded guilty before Judge Ralph Slocum.

Dixon was charged with a morals incident involving a 14-year-old girl and Clingman was charged with a similar incident involving a 15-year-old girl. Both girls have been referred to juvenile authorities.

4 Youths Put On Probation

Four teen-age youths were found delinquent and placed on probation Friday by Juvenile Court Judge W. W. Nuernberger.

A boy, 14, had been involved in vandalism and thefts. Another boy, 12, was also involved in thefts.

A girl, 15, who has been a behavior problem, and a girl, 13, who ran away from home, were the other two placed on probation.

The case of a 14-year-old boy involved in indecent exposure incidents was continued and a boy, 15, who had been placed on probation last April for thefts was released from probation.

WORKSHOP ANALYZING SHORTAGE OF DENTISTS

Effective use of auxiliary personnel in dentistry is being analyzed by some 60 Nebraska dentists attending the first annual Nebraska Workshop On Dental Health at the University of Nebraska Friday and Saturday.

Dr. C. Gordon Watson of Chicago, assistant secretary of administrative affairs of the American Dental Assn., pointed out the national shortage of dentists, and the severity of this shortage with the population explosion.

"For this reason, we will have to use ever auxiliary aid available to use at the present time," Dr. Watson said.

At the present time the national ratio of patients per dentist is 1900 to 1, Dr. Watson said, although Nebraska's average is somewhat better with a 1,600 to one ratio.

Assistants Help

Dr. Watson and Dr. Fred D. Lewis, Jr., regional dental consultant for U.S. Public Health Service, pointed out that dental assistants can legally give a great deal of aid to a dentist at the chair, thus conserving much time on the part of the dentist.

They pointed out that on the national level 18% of the dentists do not use any help whatsoever in the office, while 65% have only one girl, and only 5.1% have two girls.

They commend Nebraska dentists for their "forward move" in recognizing the problem and attempting to find solutions in the workshop meeting.

Dr. Lewis pointed out that the University of Nebraska is one of the 10 pilot schools in the U.S. Public Health Service's pilot program for training dental students to use dental assistants at the chair.

St. Paul Man Guilty Of Arson

St. Paul (AP)—A District Jury Friday night found Kenneth Rains guilty of second degree arson.

Rains, former Grand Island businessman, was charged as a result of a fire that destroyed the IGA store at Doniphan in May of 1959.

The case was heard here before District Judge William F. Manasil of Burwell on a change of venue from Hall County.

ADA Official Praises Fluoridation

Dr. Watson

According to scientific proof, the complete safety of the fluoridation of drinking water is "beyond question," the assistant secretary of the American Dental Assn. told civic leaders at a luncheon meeting on fluoridation Friday.

Dr. C. Gordon Watson of Chicago stated that in the last quarter century there hasn't been a more thorough scientific investigation into an issue involving the health of the American people by more reputable scientists than in the investigation of fluoridation.

"Controlled fluoridation, such as is proposed for Lincoln and is already being used in two-thirds of the major cities throughout the country, makes available to the public a safe, effective and economical means for preventing tooth decay," he said.

He pointed out that when considering the values to be gained from fluoridation, "We're not only talking about the health of the young people, who profit the most from it, but we're talking about the health of the entire community."

'All Will Profit'

"All generations to follow who drink fluoridated water will profit by having the threat of tooth decay cut 50%," he said.

Dr. Watson explained that fluoridation is a major means of cutting down on dental diseases. "Dentists, who are doctors devoted to elimination, prevention and correction of the disease of tooth decay, count this as one of the great forward steps in our times."

He praised the Citizen's Committee For Fluoridation for its work in promoting the fluoridation issue to be voted upon in the April 4 election.

"It will be a great benefit to the people of Lincoln and the entire community," he said.

Driver Financial Responsibility Bill Advances

A bill to discontinue the required showing of financial responsibility or auto liability insurance by drivers convicted of moving traffic violations, was advanced by the Legislature Friday by a narrow margin.

The bill, LB250, introduced by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, got 20 votes with 13 against it. The bill needed a majority of those voting or a minimum of 15 votes to be advanced from general file, the first floor hurdle of the bills.

Sens. Klaver and Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island said the proving to the state of liability insurance or financial responsibility is unnecessary if no property damage is involved, and causes additional expenses for the Division of Motor Vehicles.

The showing would still have to be made after any accident resulting in damage or injuries.

The opposition, led by Sens. Hans Jensen of Aurora, H. L. Gerhart of Newman Grove, Edwin McHugh of Murdock and Ernest Staubitz of Kearney, maintained the insurance should be bought before the accident, and removing the requirement would be "a step in the wrong direction."

Also advanced from general file were LB510, LB128, LB398 and LB325.

LB510, introduced by Sen. J. O. Peck of Columbus, authorizes the University of Nebraska to sell a certain parcel of land in Nance County.

LB398, introduced by Sen. Jack Romans of Ord, provides that inheritance tax money may be used by counties to build court houses as well as convalescent hospitals or county roads, as now provided.

LB128, introduced by Sens. M. M. Forrester of Anselmo, Louis Webb of Ogallala and Klaver, requires $2 permit plates for all cabin trailers or mobile home, and $10 registration plates for all such trailers used on the streets or highways. The bill, primarily a revenue measure, also clarifies the "proof of ownership" section, and charges sheriffs and peace officers with notifying county tax assessors of violations.

LB325, introduced by Sens. George Syas and John Munnelly, both of Omaha, allows a county hospital bond issue to pass if it receives a simple majority vote of the people, instead of a two-thirds vote now required.

Sen. Syas said Douglas County recently lost a hospital bond issue on about 58 per cent of the vote.

8 BILLS PASSED

The Nebraska Legislature Friday approved on final reading, 30-7, a bill authorizing the governor to organize and maintain a state guard force whenever he shall declare an emergency.

Present law authorizes such state guard mobilization only if the Nebraska National Guard is called into federal service or the President of the United States shall declare an emergency.

The bill broadening the basis for mobilization, LB170, was introduced by the committee on government and military affairs.

Other bills passed on final reading Friday included (E-emergency clause):

LB88 (Klaver, Adams)—Authorizing the Department of Agriculture to delegate to local health boards certain inspection functions related to establishments dealing in foods. (39-0).

LB267 (Klaver)—Making members of county service committees ineligible to serve as county service officers or assistant county service officers. (E). (38-0).

LB167 (Government Committee)—Authorizing the adjutant general to charge rental for the use of National Guard armories and facilities (39-1).

LB285 (Budget Committee)—Eliminating a $500 biennial limit on Nebraska's contrbution to the Nebraska Commissiin on Intergovernmental Cooperation. (E). (38-0).

LB168 (Government Committee)—Harmonizing statutory references related to the military department. (38-1).

LB286 (Budget Committee) — Eliminating a $600 annual limit on Nebraska's contribution to the Commission on Uniform State Laws. (E). (35-2).

MOSQUITO CONTROL BILL IS ADVANCED

Legislation authorizing Lincoln and Lancaster County to undertake mosquito control measures was advanced from general file after a first floor test in the state Legislature Friday.

LB404 was introduced by Lincoln Sens. Marvin Stromer, Fern Orme and George Knight.

Sen. Stromer said mosquitos have been a long standing problem around the Lincoln Air Force Base and along Salt Creek bottoms on West O, and that the infestation became particularly severe last year.

He noted that LB404 carries the emergency clause, which would make it effective on the governor's signature, in the hope that control steps may be taken this year.

The bill makes clear the authority of the city and county to engage in the insect control project.

Also advanced from general file Friday was LB114, introduced by Sens. Harold Stryker of Rising City, Hans Jensen of Aurora and Dale Erlewine.

In the amended form approved, LB114, authorizes payment of $20 per day to members of the Nebraska Agricultural Products Research Committee, while members are engaged in committee business.

The bill also sets a $3,000 limit on the total of per diem and expenses which may go to a member in any one year.

$500 Worth Of Jewelry Taken

Bridgeport (UPI) — Morrill and Scotts Bluff County law enforcement officers are working together on the investigation of a breakin during the night at a dress shop here.

An estimated $500 worth of costume jewelry was taken and considerable damage was done to the interior of the shop, officers said.

Bowen: Study Of Nebraska Tax Overdue

A thorough study of all phases of Nebraska taxation "has been overdue for 50 years," Sen. Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud said Friday.

In a prepared statement, he said some people "misunderstand the need and motives for legislative resolution 12 calling for such a study.

Bowen said the study should be made "no matter what the Legislature does regarding the so-called broadened tax base."

He added: "The interest generated by this legislation only serves to emphasize the need for facts."

The resolution contemplates not only a study of property taxes but also all the other fields of taxation in which the state is engaged — gasoline, tobacco, liquor, severance, inheritance, motor vehicles, etc.

Bowen said, "We hope to examine all aspects of present taxing, and possibly to explore undeveloped areas, to present full facts on what Nebraska is doing and what it should do."

SENATORS PASS MID-STATE PROJECT FUND RESOLUTION

A resolution ecnouraging Congress to appropriate funds for construction of the $81 million mid-state project in Nebraska received 24-5 approval in the Legislature Friday.

But it took a "call of the house"—a parliamentary device to bring senators to their seats—to get the resolution the 22 favorable votes needed.

Senators voting against the resolution were Albert A. Kjar of Lexington, John Adams of Omaha, Michael Russillo of Omaha, Matt Wylie of Elgin and Jack Romans of Ord.

Sen. Kjar said the mid-state project threatens "to do a great deal of damage" to some Dawson County land.

He said the original engineering design for the project represented "one of the most preposterous things ever conceived by the hand of man" and said he cannot vote for the resolution until he receives absolute assurance that the design has been changed. He said he has been told the change has been made but wants definite assurance.

Sen. Ernest Staubitz of Kearney, long associated with the mid-state project, noted that the resolution repeats similar resolutions passed at previous legislative sessions. He said Interior Secretary Udall has assured support of the project and said the resolution would be helpful to passage of the appropriative legislation pending before Congress.

The resolution, No. 14, was introduced by Sens. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, Staubitz, Hans O. Jensen of Aurora and Don Thompson of McCook.

It was introduced Tuesday and was considered Wednesday, but action was deferred then after questions were raised by several senators.

Dog Leash Law For Kimball May Come

Kimball (AP) — Residents of Kimball will vote on a dog leash law in the April 4 municipal election. The proposed law would require pets to be penned up in a yard or tied up.

The vote will not automatically enact the law, but the City Council will follow the wish of the voters in providing an ordinance.

Carol Vermaas, Bride

MRS. CHARLES ARDEN SMITH

For the wedding of Miss Carol Vermaas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Vermaas, and Charles Arden Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul V. Smith of Holdrege, which took place on Friday evening, March 24, the chancel of the Westminster Presbyterian Church was appointed with cathedral candles, in nine-branched holders, and cascade arrangements of flowers in pastel shades. The lines of the 8 o'clock ceremony were read by the Rev. Frederick Roblee, and Miss Josephine Waddell played the wedding music. Mrs. Donald Hallquist of Stanton, Ia., was the vocal soloist.

Costumed in chiffon-over-taffeta the attendants were Miss Betty Barker, who appeared in pastel blue; and bridesmaids Miss Carole Kramer of Syracuse; Miss Sueleal Thompson of Kansas City, Mo.; Miss Marian Brayton of Stromsburg and Miss Mary Kay Uehling of Lyons whose full-skirted frocks were in the rainbow tints, pastel shades of yellow, mint green and aqua. Each ensemble was completed with a hair bandeau of taffeta ornamented with roses which reflected the tone of her frock, and each carried a cascade bouquet of carnations tipped in a shade to match her costume.

Gerald Thrall of Minneapolis served as best man, and seating the guests were Dean Brown of St. Paul, Minn.; Tom Smith of Holdrege; Charles Huston of Hagan; Stewart Anderson of Axtell and Robert Luke.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white taffeta. The smoothly sculptured bodice, designed with bracelet-length sleeves and a deep portrait neckline, was patterned with appliques of frosted alencon lace re-embroidered with pearls and centered with lover's-knots. The applique motif was repeated on the voluminous skirt which extended into a cathedral train. A crown of pearl leaves and flowers held to the head her double-tiered, waist-length veil, and she carried a white orchid, encircled with stephanotis, on a white Bible.

The bride will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority, and where she was a member of the 1960 Ivy Day Court. Mr. Smith attended Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minn., where he is a member of Phi Alpha fraternity, and also will be graduated from the University of Nebraska in June.

News—A Bit Of This, A Little Of That

—There is news from the east coast this morning—and we know it will be of interest to many, many people.

We just have learned that Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Thomas Wells are leaving the States again for an indefinite stay abroad. Col. Wells, so we hear, already is in Munich where he has an assignment with Free Europe — and where the family will reside. Mrs. Wells, the former Anne Bunting Heriot, daughter of Mrs. Archer M. Bunting, will be leaving Scarsdale, N.Y. on April 14 to join Col. Wells. The younger generation, Miss Maury Heriot, a student at the University of Nebraska, and her brother Cadet Judd Heriot, who is attending Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., will leave for Munich at the close of school.

—In the department of familiar names and faces this morning we have Mr. and Mrs. Rick Weaver who, as you may or may not know, are leaving Lincoln. By this time next week Mr. and Mrs. Weaver will be on their way to New York City where Mr. Weaver will be associated with a radio and TV station as a sportscaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver have been honored with numerous informal courtesies during the past 10 days. Among their hosts and hostesses have been Mr. and Mrs. Byron Krasne, Mr and Mrs. Robert Wagner, and Dr. Michael Eyen.

On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Weaver will be the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bush.

* * *

—Special to Pi Beta Phi—A new legacy arrived at Bryan Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, March 21—She is Miss Amy Jo Keene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Keene, and her mother is the former Nancy Salter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Salter, and Pi Beta Phi at Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Keene are the paternal grandparents.

Bride's Book

A bride of early spring is Miss Dorothy Gillette, who will marry James Monroe of Belleville, Kan., on Saturday, April 1. Their afternoon wedding will be solemnized at the First Methodist Church.

For her honor attendant, Miss Gillette has chosen her twin sister, Mrs. Gerald Mohnkern of Las Cruces, N.M. The sister of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. DeWayne Honomichl of Wagner, S.D., will be the bridesmatron, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Margaret Patch of New York City; Miss Sue Torrey of East Lansing, Mich.; Miss Althea Deal of Kearney; and Miss Judy Miller.

Lighting the candles for the three o'clock ceremony will be Gregory Monroe of Pierce, and the brother of the bride-to-be, Timothy Gillette.

Preceding the bride down the aisle will be the flower girl, Miss Barbara Bounds, and the ringbearer will be Jeffery Monroe.

Serving his brother as best man will be Kenneth Monroe. The corps of ushers will include brothers of the bridegroom, Sherman Monroe, of Watertown, S.D., Robert Monroe of Pierce; and Richard Monroe of Columbus; and the brothers of the bride-elect, Roy Gillette of Ames, Ia.; Jerome Gillette and James Gillette.

On Saturday afternoon, March 25, two aunts of the soon-to-be bride, Mrs. Larry Bounds of Omaha, and Mrs. Howard Bounds, will entertain in her honor. At the pre-nuptial courtesy, to be given at the home of Mrs. Howard Bounds, the April bride-elect will be presented with a miscellaneous shower by the guests.

Selecting a spring wedding date is Miss Carolyn Dedic and her fiance, James Nelson. Their wedding will be an event of Saturday, April 8.

Now busy with plans for a May wedding is Miss Judy Fiala, who will become the bride of Donald L. Masek. They have chosen Saturday, May 20, for their wedding which will take place at St. John's Church.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oberg this morning are announcing the betrothal of their daughter, Sheryl, to Larry LeRoy Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen B. Snyder.

No definite wedding date has been set.

Miss Oberg, who is a senior in Teachers College at the University of Nebraska, is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta and Pi Lambda Theta honoraries. A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, Mr. Snyder is doing graduate work at the University of Nebraska.

Ceremony Friday

MRS. JAMES C. SIEVERS

At an 8 o'clock ceremony on Friday evening, March 24, the marriage of Miss Carolyn Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weber of Beaver Crossing, to James C. Sievers, son of Mr and Mrs. B. J. Sievers, was solemnized at the First Presbyterian Church. Dr. C. Vin White read the service before a background of roses, and Miss Grace Finch played the wedding music. Wayne Carpenter was the vocal soloist.

The attendants, including Mrs. Roger Weber, the matron of honor; Miss Sonia Sievers, the maid of honor, and bridesmaids Mrs. Jerry Sievers of York, and Miss Norah Brehm, wore long-skirted frocks of blue lace, over matching taffeta, and carried bouquets of carnations.

Jerry Sievers of York served as best man, and the ushers were Roger Weber, Dick Sievers, Don Lahm, Paul Johnson, and Clark Peterson of Beatrice.

The bride appeared in a gown of Chantilly lace. The long-sleeved basque bodice, fashioned with a portrait neckline contoured with sequins and iridescents, narrowed to a slender waist beneath which the wide skirt was given added bouffancy with a back panel of lace ruffles. A tiara, dotted with sequins, held in place the veil of illusion, and she carried red roses on a white Bible.

After a honeymoon trip to Arkansas Mr Sievers and his bride will return to Lincoln where they will reside at 3525 Apple St.

News Of Service Circles

BY GERI ROBERTS

These beautiful spring days make one thankful just to be alive. It was Cicero who said "A thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue, but the parent of all the other virtues."

Capt. and Mrs. William Hamilton have just returned to their quarters at LAFB. Betty and children spent the last 10 days visiting family and friends in Odessa, Tex. Capt. Hamilton joined them in Little Rock, Ark., for the journey home. Maj. and Mrs. Arthur Stokes, too, have just returned from a 10-day jaunt to Charlotte, N.C.

Prior to the 372nd Bomb Squadron dinner party last Saturday evening, 30 persons met at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Gabriel Kardong for a canape party. The same evening Lt. and Mrs. Ed Vallentiny and Maj. and Mrs. C. H. Peterson co-co-hosted a farewell party for Maj. and Mrs. J. Flori in the Green Room of the Officers Club. Forty-five guests attended.

And, over on Hughes, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Weidner invited Capt. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, Capt. and Mrs. Harland Williams, and Maj. and Mrs. Keith Nystrom for a bridge breakfast. Another group, strictly feminine, met at the home of Mrs. Marilyn Stallard for a lovely spaghetti dinner and bridge party. Mrs. Grace Carrier won first, Mrs. Ida Buys second, and Mrs. Phyllis Holst low Others present were Mrs. Linda Rogers, Mrs. Geri Roberts, Mrs. Shirley Masserini and Mrs. Ellie Beckman.

Capt. Norman Gates and Lt. Ronald Harmon were feted by members of the 307 OMS at a party held at the Officers Club. Capt. Gates and Lt. Harmon have been transferred to the new Missile Sqdn. T/Sgt. and Mrs. Kenenth Allison were dinner guests of T/Sgt. and Mrs. James Jones prior to the Allisons' departure for Arlington, Va. M/Sgt. James Palmer has been transferred too. Japan will be his new home.

So long—but not farewell is the message friends will convey to Maj. and Mrs. Robert Dorothy tonight in the quarters of Maj. and Mrs. L. A. Shulgin. Maj. Dorothy has been transferred into the new Missile Sqdn. Anticipating the hors d'ouevres, dinner and bridge are Capt. and Mrs. Cliff Bilek, Capt. and Mrs. Bill Kimberlin, Maj. and Mrs. Charles Ness, Capt. and Mrs. George De Facio, and Maj. and Mrs. Bruce Mills.

Meanwhile, Capt. and Mrs. Les Walrath have invited Maj. and Mrs. Frank Goetz, Capt. and Mrs. A. P. Samuels, and Capt. and Mrs. Charles Schisler for a fun evening of dinner and bridge.

Tomorrow, Col. and Mrs. Raleigh D. Smith, Col. and Mrs. Walter F. Duch and Col. and Mrs. Alvin R. Fortney will host a canape party at the Officers Club. The party is to celebrate the colonels' recent promotions. As Eva Arrington said, "Success is never found on top of the hill if the duties at the foot are neglected." So, to these three successful men we say, "Congratulations for jobs well done, and thanks, too."

News Of Suburbia

PARK MANOR

A new member of the diaper set in suburbia is little Miss Laura Ann Gruhn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gruhn, who was born on Thursday, March 16, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Mrs. Gruhn is the former Dorothy Suponchick.

Among the young lady's admirers are her three year-old sister, Barbara Ann, and her brother, Steven, who is six years old. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Viggo Christensen of Omaha.

And taking a glance at the social calendar we see that Mrs. Harold Gilliland entertained the members of her church circle group of St. Paul Methodist Church at her home Tuesday evening.

Also on the calendar Tuesday evening was the informal, surprise birthday party for Mrs. Robert L. Hinrichs given by Mrs. Roger Rankin at her home. Wishing Mrs. Hinrichs happy birthday several days early, as her birthday is Monday, were Mrs. Don Wenzl, Mrs. Lowell C. Johnson, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. Larry Romjue, Mrs. Roger Hall, and Miss Sandra Lichtenberg.

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

A look in the birthday book for the month of March and we find that Roger Holmstedt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Holmstedt, will be observing his sixth birthday anniversary, Tuesday, March 28. Roger has invited a group of his contemporaries to his home Tuesday afternoon following school for a party including the traditional birthday menu of cake and ice cream.

Still more news of birthdays in Patrician Heights — this one concerns the birthday anniversary yesterday, March 24, of Mrs. Albert Priess. Mrs. Priess and several of her suburbia friends had dinner and an evening out while their husbands stayed home with the children or fended for themselves.

Joining Mrs. Priess for dinner were Mrs. Rolland Roesler, Mrs. Dan Holmstedt, Mrs. Carl Peckman, Mrs. William Reilley, and Mrs. Don Detmer.

CHATTER in the CORRIDOR

BY STEVIE DORT

"Yipe! Ouch! Yow!" What's all the noise for? It's only a few physiology students reacting in a normal way after they have been victims of the "plunger." The "plunger" as it was named by several students is only a spring apparatus used to make a puncture wound in order to secure blood for blood tests—sounds simple!

In physiology class recently all students were able to type their blood. After learning the makeup of blood, the different types and various blood tests, the LSE'ers actually typed their blood.

Although not one type AB was recorded that day, types A and O were plentiful! But type B also was rather scarce. Students could use any type of method in order to secure blood. The various methods used were the "plunger," a razor blade or a needle. All sterilized, naturally!

Pep Club blouses have arrived and some have been distributed to their rightful owners. Others, who wished the monogram, will have a short wait.

Since the spring uniform was solved by the monogrammed gold blouses, only one other problem needs a solution. How to get over 200 pairs of gold Pep Club socks (rallies) the same color? It's a problem but we're working on it!

Southeast spring sport fans will be exceptionally busy this spring as many teams will be in the spotlight.

April 8 is the date for the All City Track meet. Last year the tracksters set many impressive records — keep it up, guys!

Baseball is not forgotten — why? — Lincoln Southeast is the State Baseball Champion. Last year's record including tourney play was 7-2.

Ah— golf! The Knights finished fifth in the State last year, that came from "accurate putts" you can bet! Concluding — in Tennis, LSE placed third in the State. Good court action is expected this year as Southeast has several outstanding players.

A promising spring schedule. Wouldn't you say?

LSE Baseball pants, plaid bermuda shorts, sweat pants, "beanies," and colorful sweatshirts were the "garbs of the day" Wednesday as senior lettermen in football and men of the faculty presented a Faculty-Student basketball game.

Sponsored by Southeast's International Club the thrilling game began at 3:45 on Wednesday. Almost every foul call was exercised as the Faculty edged out the Football lettermen 28-27.

Individual stars for the faculty were Bob "lay ups" Lohrberg, "Wild Bill" Miller, and Tom "score keeper" Gillaspie. Senior lettermen "stars" included John "dribbling demon" Morris, John "free throws" Hallett, Bill "flowered pants" Elam, Bob "tiger" Flynn and numerous others.

"Don't Be A Snook—Give A Book." This is the slogan of the LSE Library Book Drive. Because our school library was found inadequate by Miss Gwendoline Birky a book drive was begun by interested parents. Each LSE family was urged to contribute to the cause and to help make this drive successful.

Spring vacation is coming—tra la la la. Three whole days of relaxation are due the Knights of Southeast beginning next Friday. During that vacation there will be time for playing golf, moving, sewing or just relaxing!

CLUBS

At the Tuesday evening meeting of HARTLEY PTA, the members elected Mrs. Clyde Curd president of the unit for the coming year. Other officers named were John Weihing, first vice president; Phil Henderson, second vice president, Mrs. Richard Mills, secretary; Mrs. Arthur Johnson, treasurer; and Merv Aden, auditor.

The program, "Operation Green Thumb," was presented by Mrs. John C. Hollingsworth, who spoke on growing and caring for roses, and Lowell Heiliger, who discussed lawn care.

A talk on fluoridation was given by Dr. Robert M. Burton.

Mrs. D. I. Parker has been re-elected president of CHAPTER BY, PEO. Also re-elected at the recent meeting of the group was Mrs. O. A. Janssen, recording secretary.

New chapter officers are Mrs. William C. Hastings, vice president, Mrs. Keith A. Shepherd, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. H. Becker, treasurer; Mrs. George Moats, chaplain; and Mrs. George J. David, Jr., guard.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Dble.	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♣	2 ♠	Pass	4 ♥
5 ♣	Dble.

Opening lead — king of hearts.

If you see that the opponents have you beaten in a contract because they have you outgunned, the best thing to do is to try to minimize the loss.

Sacrifice bidding doesn't fatten your bank account on a given hand, but it helps to slow up a depreciation of you. assets.

It was obvious to South, both from partner's consistent passes and East-West's vigorous bidding, that the opponents could make a game in spades or hearts worth 820 points. So South, singlehanded, contracted for five clubs, which West doubled.

West led the king of hearts and continued with the ace. Declarer ruffed and cashed the A-K of clubs, felling the queen. Then, realizing that the diamonds might not break favorably, declarer led a diamond to the queen, ruffed a heart, played a diamond to the ace, and ruffed dummy's last heart.

These careful preparations turned out to be not in vain. South exited with a spade. The defenders could now cash two spade tricks but there was no way for West to score his apparent diamond winner.

Thus, if East won the second spade trick, he would be forced to return a spade or a heart, either of which would permit South to discard a diamond while ruffing in the other hand.

If West chose to win the second spade trick instead, he likewise would be forced to give declarer a ruff and discard, or else lead a diamond up to South's K-10. In either case, therefore, declarer would hold himself to the loss of two spades and a heart and go down only one.

Considering that East-West would have scored a game if they had been permitted to play the contract at four spades or hearts, the sacrifice bid which cost only 100 points turned out to be a big bargain.

North-South were not any richer by virtue of being minus 100 points, but they would have been much poorer if they had let their vulnerable opponents go game without putting up a fight.

Dear Abby—

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Where we live, it is the custom for parents to give their children five dollars for every "A" and two dollars for every "B" on their report cards. I am 13 and got two A's and four B's and I didn't get anything. Do you think that is fair?
GYPPED

DEAR GYPPED: When I went to school, we didn't worry about what we got if we made A's and B's. We worried about what we got if we DIDN'T.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a wonderful man and everyone who knows him admires him for his many fine qualities. But he is making our boys hate him by the way he corrects them. If their shoulders happen to droop at the dinner table, he shouts, "SIT UP!" in such a mean way that it brings tears to their eyes (and mine) and spoils our dinner.

If he would just smile and say, "How about putting those shoulders back?" that is all that would be necessary. How can I get him to realize that he could accomplish the same good with a little different approach?
"WORRIED"

DEAR "WORRIED" Your husband is probably worried, too — about something else. Husbands come home and bark at their wives and children because they can't take it out on anyone else. Be sympathetic and let him know he can unburden himself to you. Then, tell him what's on your mind.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: There is going to be a wedding in our family. One of the relatives has made it plain that he is going to wear a dark business suit instead of a tuxedo. We requested tuxes and all the other relatives are wearing tuxedos and long dresses. We told him if it was the money that was bothering him, we would take up a collection and rent him a tuxedo. He said it wasn't the money — it was the collar. There is no talking him into it. The bride is afraid he will spoil the pictures. Is there any way we can either get him into a tuxedo or keep him out of the pictures?
GO BETWEEN

DEAR GO: Let him wear what he wants. A dark suit and a ready-made black bow tie will be comfortable and inconspicuous. It's not worth the battle.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago you printed a letter signed Frieda. Poor Frieda complained that her husband's whiskers were bothering her. Someone should tell Frieda to be thankful for small blessings. My wife hasn't complained about my whiskers in nearly a year.

Here's How To Work It

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another, in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Cincy Clouts Utah; Bucks Rip St. Joe

...NO. 1-2 TEAMS BATTLE TONIGHT

Unbeaten Ohio State, its uncanny shooting eye and Jerry Lucas' 29 points overcoming its frequent mistakes, made it 32 straight in the opener of a semifinal showdown.

So it's the Beat 'Em Bucks of the Big 10 and the busslin' Bearcats of the Missouri Valley Conference — only some 90 miles apart in the basketball hotbed of Ohio—in the championship test at 9 p.m. (CST) tonight.

First Since '22

What the two Ohio schools couldn't work out between their athletic departments since 1922, the NCAA tournament has arranged for them.

Ohio State and Cincinnati haven't met in basketball since 1922. They played 6 times before that — with Ohio State winning 4 of the 6.

Cincinnati's balance, defense, and muscular rebounding — parlayed with Utah's poor shooting — made the second game almost as ho-hum an affair as the win-as-they-please rout for the Buckeyes in the opener.

McGill Hits

Only Billy (The Hill) McGill of Utah could penetrate the Cincinnati defense with any regularity. McGill, the nation's No. 4 scorer with a 27.7 average, hit 25 points.

Cincinnati now is 26-3 and unbeaten since losing to Bradley on Dec. 23.

Ohio State, attempting to become the first team since North Carolina in 1957 to sweep through a major season unbeaten, played well only in spurts, tossed away too many passes, and had a bundle of other infractions.

But none of those things mean much when you toss the ball through the basket practically every time you step back and take aim.

Lucas Uncanny

Big Lucas, the 6-8 great, was the most uncanny of the bunch — hitting 10 of 11 field goal attempts, dropping 9 of 10 free throws, and doing a tremendous job on rebounds and play-making in the 33 minutes he played.

St. Joseph's, which had pushed its winning streak to 15 while startling experts in capturing the Eastern regional at Charlotte (N.C.) last week, had 3 minutes and 52 seconds of ecstasy.

Those were the first 3:52 of the game — in which the Hawks from Philadelphia, champion of the Middle Atlantic Conference, bounced into a 5-0 lead while Ohio State adjusted its sigts.

Bucks Zero In

The Bucks zeroed in promptly, swarming over St. Joe for 23 points in the next 8 minutes while taking a 23-9 lead. The Hawks never got within 10 points again.

It was 80-53 with 6:11 left when Lucas was taken out of the game — right after he had jammed in two fast break baskets, the second on a leaping stuff shot.

Larry Siegried, who scored 21 points, and the other regulars went on a half-minute later and the reserves had a bit of practice the rest of the way.

Ohio State hit on 38 of 60 shots and 19 of 24 free throws. By comparison, St. Joseph's hit only 22 of 76 for 28 per cent.

Egan Stopped

Vince Kempton, 6-8 senior from New York, led the Hawks with 18 points while St. Joe's ace, Jack Egan, was held to 8 compared to his 22-point season average.

John Havlicek, a 6-5 junior, did the defensive job on the 6-6, 210-pound Egan and found time to score 11 points himself. Mel Nowell had 15 points and did a good job of playmaking.

The Cincinnati-Utah game was tied twice and the lead changed hands 3 times in the first 5 minutes before the Bearcats got into motion.

Then with Paul Hogue, Bob Wiesenhahn and Tommy Thacker controlling the boards and their usual defense putting the Utah attack in a vise, the Bearcats romped to a 30-16 lead on a 16-2 burst that broke open the game.

Last Hope

The Skyline Conference champs twice got within 10 points midway in the second half before a 9-point burst by the Bearcats killed the last threat with about 8:50 remaining.

Carl Bouldin, a capable little back-court man, led Cincinnati with 21 points while 6-9 Hogue had 18, Wiesenhahn 14 and Tony Yates 13.

Thacker had only 7 points. He did his usual rebounding job although he's only 6-2 and had the crowd buzzing with his playmaking.

POKES NEAR RASSLE WIN

Cleveland, Denver Reach AAU Finals

Denver, (AP) — Cleveland, overcoming Paul Neuman's tying free throw at the end of regulation play, charged past New York 97-94 in overtime and Denver's hot-handed shooters wrecked San Francisco 101-86 in the semifinals Friday night of the National AAU Basketball tournament.

Lakers Up 2-1

Los Angeles (AP) — Los Angeles built up a comfortable lead but had to weather a furious St. Louis rally to defeat the Hawks 118-112 Friday night in the Western Division playoffs for the National Basketball Association championship. The Lakers now lead in the best-of-7 series, two games to one.

NIT Wrapup Slated Today

...ST. LOUIS VS. PROVIDENCE

New York (AP) — Two unseeded teams, Providence's fast-breaking Friars, and St. Louis University's possession-minded Billikens, meet today for the National Invitation Basketball Tournament's championship.

The windup of the 12-team tournament at 3 p.m. (CST) is expected to draw another big crowd to Madison Square Garden although the tilt will be televised (NBC-TV).

Despite the latest basketball scandal and nasty weather, the tournament has drawn 72,134 fans to date for an average of 14,426 per program. That average has been surpassed only twice in the last 6 tournaments.

The Thursday night semifinals, in which Providence edged Holy Cross in a 90-83 overtime thriller and St Louis tumbled Dayton, 67-60, lured a capacity crowd of 18,378 in spite of sleet and rain.

Providence figures to have a psychological advantage. The Friars beat the Billikens in the quarter-finals of the last two NIT's, winning 75-72 in double overtime in 1959 and 64-53 last year.

The Friars also gained an edge in knocking off Holy Cross, the hottest team in the tourney. The Crusaders had won 10 straight, including a 77-72 conquest of Providence before the tournament.

Providence is noted for its wide open style of attack. The Friars break fast with 5-8 Vince Ernst and 6-foot Johnny Egan leading the attack. They set up lumbering but effective 6-10 Jim Hadnot or move around him in driving sorties for the basket.

St. Louis stresses defense and ball control.

Nieder Irked By Promoter

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP) — Ex-shot put king Bill Nieder Friday put down his foot—and it's a large one—on the idea of making his boxing debut in a 6 round match in Reno, Nev., April 7.

Nieder, who has trimmed 22 pounds off his 242-pound Olympic weight, was denied permission to box a scheduled 10-rounder in Reno by the Nevada Boxing Commission. He was matched with Ryork Becerra.

BLOODY . . . INDEED!

Glasgow, Scotland (AP) — Former British middleweight champion John (Cowboy) McCormack was given a bloody nose Friday by a sailor from the United States nuclear submarine supply ship Proteus.

A notice on the ship's bulletin board said: "Any member of the crew willing to spar with the Scottish contender for the British middleweight boxing title, Cowboy McCormack, please sign his name below."

First on the list was Carl Hamner of Miami, Fla. In 3 rounds of sparring in a Glasgow gymnasium he landed a punch that sent McCormack home with a swollen and bleeding nose.

—WAVERLY DEALT 79-37 INDOOR DEFEAT—

Uni Thinclads Romp

Williams won the high and low hurdles in :08.5 and :08.1, and the broad jump with a leap of 18-3½. He tied for first in the high jump with teammate Charlie Hellerich at 5-6.

Coach Dale Snook of Uni High said he was well pleased with his club's showing.

"We're far ahead of last year's pace," said the veteran mentor. "This is the earliest we've ever had a track meet, and some of the marks were real good."

Hebert Leading Sunshine Pack

...BUNCHED LIKE BANANAS

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Jay Hebert, with a two-round total of 134, clung tenaciously to his one stroke lead Friday as the field in the $25,000 Sunshine Open golf tournament reached the halfway point, with the leaders bunched like bananas.

Herbert added a 68 Friday over the 6,632-yard par 36-36—72 Bayshore layout to his first round 66 as Gay Brewer Jr., and burly Julius Boros deadlocked for second place at 135, and young Bob Brue edged into 4th one stroke behind them.

Boros had a 67, Brewer a 65 — best of the tournament —and Brue a 67.

Breathing down the necks of this select group were such dangers contenders as Gary Player, with a 68 for 137; Arnold Palmer, with a 70 for 138; and Sam Snead, Tom Garrity, Bobby Nichols, Bill Casper Jr., and Jon Gustin, all with 139.

So tight was the field grouped that the cutoff point for the 70 low pros and ties for the 3rd round was 147.

Low scores:

Jay Hebert	66-68—134
Julius Boros	68-67—135
Gay Brewer Jr.	70-65—135
Bob Brue	68-68—136
Gary Player	69-68—137
Arnold Palmer	68-70—138
Sam Snead	70-69—139
Tom Garrity	68-71—139
Bill Casper Jr.	70-69—139
Jon Gustin	72-67—139

Thompson Falls

Corvalis, Ore. (AP) — Harold Thompson of the University of Nebraska was defeated in the semifinals of the National Collegiate (NCAA) wrestling championships Friday night.

Thompson, a 157-pounder, was pinned in 2:40 by Kirk Pendleton of Lehigh.

'Winningest' Wins Another

Sunday Is Deadline For Catfish Dinner

Deadline for obtaining reservations for the catfish dinner sponsored by the Nebraska Better Fishing Assn., is Sunday, according to Fern Mosier, club secretary-treasurer.

The dinner will be held next Tuesday at 6 p.m. at Cotner Terrace.

—CURFEW, RING BROKEN—

'Sore' Alston Fines Hurlers

Vero Beach, Fla. (AP)—Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers, sore of mind and fist, Friday slapped substantial fines on two of his stellar pitchers, Larry Sherry and Sandy Koufax.

Late Hours

It appeared their timing was bad but their location was worse. They room next door to the manager in the Dodgers' old Navy barracks.

The club would not specify the amount of the fines, admittedly the worst in the club's training camp history for curfew violations. But reportedly Sherry was socked $200 and Koufax $100.

Breaks Ring

Alston's sore fist was explainable. He pounded so hard on Sherry's door he broke his 1959 World Series diamond ring. Sherry, it seemed, failed to respond quick enough to the boss' first knocks.

"I'll raise the roof on discipline in this camp," Alston declared. "I don't want to be a policeman but so far I think I have been too lenient."

Sherry and Koufax, who occupy adjoining rooms in the barracks "suites," said they had been visiting friends in Vero Beach and the time slipped by too fast.

Koufax, incidentally, had pitched 7 innings of hitless ball Thursday.

No Answer, Pow

Alston said he knocked first on Sherry's door, whch was locked, and got no answer. So he let loose with a most authoritative bang.

The Koufax door was not locked and apparently Sandy, noted for his fast ball, was equally speedy with his feet.

The mystery to camp followers was how Alston knew they were late. He is generally in bed by 11 p.m. and the players reported in—rather came in—at 1:45 a.m.

PERU VOLLEYBALL CHAMPS

Wesleyan Drubbed

Weber Medalist In Western Golf

The 21-year-old Weber, a native of Bayside, Calif., and a member of the University of Houston golf team, finished the 4 rounds of qualifying play with 68-71-71-68—278, a 4-stroke bulge over his nearest rival.

The 16 surivivors from the 139 entries who started play on Wednesday enter match play today. The first round and quarter-finals are on tap today with the semifinals and finals set for Sunday.

Behind the top 3 came Mexican Amateur champion Juan Estrada and power-hitting Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, O., each at 284 and National Amateur champion Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., at 286.

Notable entries who failed to qualify for the championship flight included two-time Western winner Dr. Ed Updegraff of Tucson, Ariz., German champion Ed Brantly of Signal Mountain, Tenn., and Labron Harris Jr., of Stillwater, Okla., all 3 at 294, one stroke behind the qualifying point.

Ron Weber Bayside. Calif.	278
Dudley Wyson, McKinney, Tex.	282
Richard Canon, San Angelo, Tex.	283
Juan Estrade, Mexico	284

BETSY RAWLS SNARES LEAD

Bradenton, Fla. (AP)—Betsy Rawls, president of the Ladies Professional Golf Assn., Friday took a two-stroke lead in the Bradenton Women's Open tournament with a sparkling 72 over the 6,332-yard DeSoto Lakes course where men's par is 71.

Miss Rawls, 32-year-old player from Spartanburg, S.C., shot the lowest round of the tournament to date with 37-35—72 for a two-day total of 148.

Miss Rawls had 4 bogeys and 3 birdies during her round and, with Mary Lena Faulk, became the first women to break men's par on the back 9 with 35s. Miss Faulk had 73 and tied with Marilyn Smith and Mickey Wright with 150 for two rounds.

Central's Sayers Smashes Records

Omaha (AP) — Gayle Sayers of Omaha Central set two records Friday night in the preliminaries of the Greater Omaha High School Invitational Track Meet.

The Central flash did :07.6 in the 60-yard high hurdles to wipe out the :07.8 mark set by Preston Love of Omaha Tech in 1960.

And he did 22-6 in the broad jump to erase the 21-6½ mark set in 1959 by Rich Halcomb of Omaha Tech.

Two finals were held, Central winning the distance medley relay in 8:35.4, and Pete Lage of Omaha Benson and Frank Hoppe of Schuyler tieing in the high jump at 5-10.

NU Golf Squad Begins Action

The University of Nebraska's golf team will tour Oklahoma and Kansas during spring vacation next week, playing Central State College at Edmond, Okla., Oklahoma Baptist at Shawnee, Tulsa, Washburn at Topeka, and Kansas State at Manhattan.

Coach Harry Good named Dave McConohay, Holdrege; Jerry Overgaard, Lincoln, the two lettermen on the squad along with Fred Sukup, Cozad; Ed Taber and Ralph (Buddy) Williamson of Lincoln to make the trip.

Husker Netters To Swing South

University of Nebraska tennis players move into Oklahoma and Kansas for a spring vacation tour which finds them meeting Tulsa, Oklahoma Baptist, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Wichita.

Reds Bank On Young Pitchers

. . . TO IMPROVE NL POSITION

Tampa, Fla. (AP) — Young pitching is the main hope of the Cincinnati Reds to improve on last year's 6th-place finish in the National League.

The addition of Joey Jay, who never lived up to his early promise at Milwaukee, and the expected improvement of Jay Hook and Jim O'Toole give manager Freddie Hutchinson new hope in the pitching department.

Bob Purkey (17-11) is the acknowledged ace of the staff. He is 31 but the other front line men are in the middle or low 20s. Hook (11-18) and O'Toole (12-12) are 24. Jay (9-8 at Milwaukee) is 25 and Jim Maloney (2-5) is only 20. He has been bothered some by arm trouble this spring.

Another young man by the name of KenHunt (16-6 with Columbia, S.C., in the Sally League) has looked very good in the exhibitions. Hunt, still on the Indianapolis roster, is only 22. Claude Osteen, 21, is another youngster with a chance. He had an 0-1 record with the big club all last season.

The relief corps is well manned with right-hander Jim Brosnan (7-2 and a 2.36 earned run average), and lefties Marshall Bridges (6-2) and Bill Henry (1-5). Howie Nunn (12-6 at Jersey City) and Dave Stenhouse (13-12 with Seattle) are other possibilities.

"If our young pitching comes through and we get a solid second base combination, we could be in the race," said Hutchinson.

This is the first time in many years that the Reds have a second-short problem. Johnny Temple was traded a year ago and Roy McMillan went to the Braves during the winter.

If Jim Baumer (.293 at Salt Lake City) can make it at second, Eddie Kasko (.292) will be at short. So far Baumer, a 30-year-old former $50,000 White Sox bonus baby, has been hitting at a fair pace. If Baumer fails, Kasko will move over to second and Leo Cardenas (.232) a fine fielder will be at short.

Choate 'Can't Hold Johansson Forever'

Miami, Fla. (AP) — A federal judge warned attorneys Friday to conclude their tax case against Ingemar Johansson by next Friday and let the Swedish heavyweight go home.

"I'm not going to keep this man in prison because you say he has not paid his taxes," Judge Emett C. Choate told John J. McCarthy, attorney for the Department of Justice tax division.

McCarthy told the judges, at a hearing on Johansson's petition to be allowed to leave the country, that the Internal Revenue Service can invoke the aid of the immigration service to keep persons in the country during tax investigations.

"I told you a week ago what to do," the judge shot back. "I may decide to release him after the depositions. I'll set the case for next Friday at 9:45 a m."

The government contends that Johansson owes $598,181 for 1959 and 1960 and $411,620 for 1961. The judge noted that $1.3 million of Johansson's funds are tied up in this country.

"His tax may be $1.4 million," McCarthy said.

"You're going to have him fighting for nothing if you keep on," Judge Choate remarked.

An attorney for Johansson told the court the fighter did not receive any money in 1959 for his fight with Patterson that year, and that the funds had been tied up in New York until April of 1960.

McCarthy said Johansson did not file a tax return for 1959, to which the judge replied tartly:

Johansson began giving testimony at a deposition hearing Thursday and resumed Friday when court adjourned. He is expected to continue today and Monday.

Judge Choate denied a motion to permit Johansson to leave the country, but said he would make a decision next Friday, "or earlier if the examination is finished."

CAPITAL CITY BOWLS 3,137

The Capital City men's bowling team, with 3 members pushing 700 series, posted a hot 3,137 team series Friday night in the Greater Lincoln League at Parkway Lanes.

Jim Dill missed the big 700 by only 3 pins with a 697. Wally Barnett rolled a 666 and Leo Ostermiller a 665 in the fine effort.

City Growth Basis For Airport Plans

By Virgil Falloon

The sites for a general aviation airport and 3 satellite fields proposed for the 1980 Regional Plan by the Lincoln Airport Authority are for the long-range planning of Lincoln's aviation needs, Chairman Leo J. Beck Jr. said Friday.

This long-range view by the authority, Beck said, is predicated on the anticipated doubling of Lincoln's population to 250,000 or 300,000 during the next 20 or 25 years and the rapid increase in general aviation.

"Manufacturers of small aircraft sold more planes in 1960 than the total for the previous 5 years," Beck said. "Private flying is increasing rapidly."

For these reasons, Beck said, it is the Authority's opinion that these additional facilities may be needed with future growth even if the Lincoln Air Force Base second-runway plan is approved.

Near Interchange

Two alternative sites for a general aviation airport with one or more runways of 5,000 feet and capable of instrument flight rules are proposed near the Waverly interchange of Interstate Hwy. 180 northeast of Lincoln.

Beck said the general aviation site could be needed in the future if the city and air traffic outgrows general aviation facilities proposed in the second-runway plan.

It is also a hedge against the possibility that the second-runway plan may not be approved.

The 3 proposed satellite locations are also for general aviation, and providing for 2,500-foot runways and visual flight rules, and capable of single engine and light twin-engine aircraft.

The satellite sites are Union Airport, an area on the north side of O about 7 miles east of 70th and an area two miles south of O and 2½ miles east of 70th.

FAA Approves

Beck said the sites, taken under consideration by the City-County Planning Commission in its meeting Wednesday, have been okayed as "logical sites" for future aviation needs by the Federal Aviation Agency.

He said the suggested sites were developed by the Authority's engineer in consultation with the commission's planning staff.

They are expected to be considered by the commission in its planning session next Wednesday aimed at finalizing the Regional Plan by April 1.

County Juvenile Officials Given Lincoln Girl, 15

A 15-year-old girl was turned over to county juvenile authorities after a lie detector test indicated her story of an alleged attack was not true, Police Capt. Eugene Henninger said.

Henninger said the girl had first told police 4 boys had cut the initials "JD" on her arm. Next she said they hadn't and that she'd cut them herself.

Thursday night the girl's mother called police about an alleged attack on her daughter by 3 boys and said they had cut her again.

After taking the lie detector test Friday the girl admitted the wounds were self-inflicted and was turned over to the county, Henninger said.

REGISTRATION RECORD FOR LINCOLN PRIMARY

Election Commissioner Fred Cassidy said 62,191 Lincoln voters were registered for the approaching April 4 city primary as registration books closed Friday.

Few Actually Vote

Only one out of every 5 voters went to the polls in the 1959 city primary. If this is projected for the April primary, something less than 12,000 voters will cast ballots.

No major issues have appeared between the candidates for city, school board or airport authority offices.

Mayor Pat Boyles is unopposed on the ballot for renomination. Twenty-six candidates are actively seeking nomination to the City Council to succeed the 3 retiring incumbents who early announced they would not seek re-election.

Accident Award Overturned By District Jury

A $600 award made by Municipal Court Judge John Jacobson to an Omaha man in an auto accident case has been overturned by a District Court jury.

Judge Jacobson had awarded the $600 to Lawrence E. Newton of Omaha from Lee Bingham of Davey. Newton claimed damage to his car resulted from negligence on Bingham's part in an accident March 23, 1960.

Newton was driving a car and Bingham a truck when the accident occured on U.S. 77 about two miles north of Lincoln.

Sertoma Club To Honor All-City Scholastic Team

The Sertoma Club of Lincoln will honor 9 Lincoln high school students at its 3rd annual All-City Scholastic Team awards luncheon April 20 at the Capital Hotel.

University of Nebraska Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin will address the honorees, who were selected by their respective principals on a scholarship basis.

Parents of the honored students, the school principals and Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools, will also be guests at the luncheon.

Those to be honored are:

Lincoln Southeast High—Shirley J. Sampson, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Delbert Sampson, and Robert Gordon Sakai, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Sakai.

Lincoln Northeast—James K. Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartman, and Donald G. Hanway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Hanway.

Lincoln High—Kenneth Haar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Haar; Carol Ann Phelps, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Phelps, and David Rathjen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Rathjen.

University High—Charles Hellerich, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hellerich.

Tax Adjustment

Baghdad (AP) — Iraq's revolutionary government will make essentials cheaper, luxuries more expensive in the new budget. The consumption tax on farm produce will be dropped. Taxes will rise on drinks, gasoline and cigarets. Property taxes will be down to encourage building and to reduce rents.

How much to run this Volkswagen Truck?

(2¢ per mile? 2.5¢ per mile? 6¢ per mile?)

We know one VW Truck owner who figures his operating costs at 1.8¢ a mile. Another figures 6.6¢ a mile. Both are right. Costs vary with use, driving habits and accounting methods.

That's why we make no claims of "up to" a certain number of miles per gallon, or "as low as" a certain cost per mile. We prefer merely to cite experiences of VW Truck owners. One figure we think is fair is the 4.5¢ per mile, including gas, oil, repairs, tires, and tubes, for 17 VW Trucks doing door-to-door delivery in the hilly Seattle area.

How did we get figures like this? We simply asked a number of VW owners. Their answers are precisely recorded in a 60-page book called "The Owner's Viewpoint." One thing is constant. Whatever cost figures an owner had recorded for his VW, he almost invariably added that VW costs were about half the figures for his other trucks. Come in and pick up a free copy. Or ask us to send it to you.

Livestock Assessment Date Debated

Nebraska livestock interests and county assessors parted company Friday on the question of whether the assessment date on livestock should be changed from Jan. 1 to March 1.

A bill calling for the change, LB616, was given public hearing before the Revenue Committee. Sens. Hans O. Jensen of Aurora and J. W. Burbach of Crofton introduced the measure.

The committee deferred action on the bill but advanced to the floor two other measures given public hearing Friday.

They included:

LB600, introduced by Sen. Burbach, setting annual grain licensing fees for grain elevators and warehouses with capacities ranging from 11 million to 50 million bushels.

LB597, introduced by Sens. Jensen and Harold Stryker of Rising City, authorizing the state agriculture director to acquire title to patents resulting from state-financed research into new uses for agricultural products.

Explaining LB600, Sen. Burbach said present law makes no provision for warehouses of more than 11 million bushel capacity, but larger warehouses have developed, necessitating added fee schedules.

The change in livestock assessment dates proposed in LB616 would reverse part of the action of the 1959 legislature which moved the general assessment date from March 1 to Jan. 1.

Glut Claimed

Backers of LB616 said that because Iowa and other neighboring states have a similar Jan. 1 assessment date, livestock markets at Omaha and Sioux City receive a glut of cattle just before that date, from feeders who want to get rid of the animals and save paying property taxes on them. The result is a depression in prices, they said.

Sen. Jensen recalled that on Dec. 31, 1959, hog prices broke a full $1 per hundred pounds.

Sen. Burbach proposed a change to Feb. 15, with provision that the assessment must be completed by March 15. The assessment deadline currently is March 1, but Burbach said he did not believe the additional 15 day delay would cause any hardship on assessors.

Sen. Jensen noted that if the average inventory bill is approved, there will be no need for LB616.

Morrison Signs 'Progressive' Insurance Annuity Measure

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Friday he has signed into law an insurance bill, LB301, which he said ranks Nebraska "as a leader among progressive insurance states."

"In the future you will be able to buy annuities under which your income can increase to meet the rising cost of living. At the same time you will have all the advantages of our present annuity plans."

Only 4 other states have passed similar legislation, Gov. Morrison noted.

"Nebraska insurance companies form the second largest business in the state of Nebraska," he said. "Last year these companies collected in excess of $400 million in premiums from all over the country.

"As our Nebraska insurance companies prosper they will employ more Nebraskans, generate more income, pay more taxes and help Nebraska grow. LB301 demonstrates my desire to help our own business."

COOL CAPITOL WOULD COST COOL MILLION

The State Building Commission Friday took under advisement a report from an engineering consultant firm concerning air conditioning for the State Capitol.

Henningson, Durham and Richardson, Omaha consulting firm, provided the committee with a bulky report in which it estimated the cost of project at $1 million.

The firm recommended that the air conditioning be done in 10 stages, each step costing approximately $100,000.

If the project were undertaken all at once, the cost could be reduced by about 10%, the consultants said.

State Engineer John Hossak said the committee will study the report and plans to meet again next week to discuss the matter further.

Cemetery District Bill Is Advanced

A bill providing for the organization of cemetery districts and allowing them to levy a tax of up to one-half mill, was heard and advanced Friday by the Legislature's Committee on Public Health and Miscellaneous Subjects.

The committee also heard a bill giving the State Historical Society the power to accept gifts, own and control property, and operate sites and museums, but held it for later action.

The cemetery district bill, LB678, was introduced by the committee on Banking, Commerce and Insurance.

As amended, it provides that a majority of the resident freeholders of any compact and contiguous district or community may form a district to equip and maintain cemeteries.

The Historical Society bill, LB677, was introduced by the committee on Government and Military Affairs.

The society has had authority to control the museum in Lincoln, but has not had the power to maintain other sites.

Its operations shall continue to be under the direction of the governor and the Legislature, according to the bill.

Woman Fined $50 On Vagrancy Count

Georgina Gruis of 2025 F was fined $50 on a vagrancy charge Friday by County Judge Ralph Slocum.

Mrs. Gruis, 22, previously had pleaded guilty to a vagrancy complaint charging her with being a common prostitute.

Liebers Gives Billboard Views

Legislative Bill 313 is important to the future of Nebraska because it will contribute to the safety, beauty and development of the state, former state Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln said Friday.

He heads a 24-member committee formed to work for enactment of LB313 which would allow the state to regulate billboard advertising on the Interstate highway.

Liebers said more than 100 statewide organizations are backing the measure.

"Millions are being spent to make the interstate as safe as possible," Liebers said. "Much of this expenditure will be wasted if promiscuous advertising is permitted to obstruct a clear view and distract the attention of drivers traveling at high speeds."

Soldiers Like Milk

Paris (AP)—Agriculture Minister Henri Rochereau told a Senate economic committee French soldiers are drinking less wine and more milk. He said many downed no more than half their daily rationed half-liter (pint) of wine. He gave no milk statistics

Nebraska Hall Of Fame Bill Will Be Introduced

The Government and Military Affairs Committee Friday agreed to introduce a bill at the request of Governor Morrison which would create a Nebraska Hall of Fame Commission.

The committee voted 7-0 to introduce the measure which calls for a board of 7 members, 6 of whom would be appointed by the governor. The seventh member would be the director of the Nebraska Historical Society.

In Capitol

The Hall of Fame would be located in the state Capitol.

Purpose of the Hall of Fame is "to bring public attention and to recognize officially those people who, in their lives, have achieved prominence and who were outstanding Nebraskans."

According to the bill, Nebraskans shall mean those (1) who were born in Nebraska (2) who gained prominence while living in Nebraska or (3) who lived in Nebraska and whose residence here was an important influence on his life and which attributed to his greatness.

Number Limited

The commission could not name more than 6 persons to the Hall of Fame during its first two years and not more than one person each two years after that.

The bill would leave it up to the commission to adopt rules and regulations to establish criteria of eligibility. The bill also contains the emergency clause.

The Government Committee also agreed to introduce 3 other bills.

One would allow county board to determine closing hours of pool halls and bowling alleys outside the limits of any incorporated city or village.

The bill was approved for introduction by a 6-1 vote with the emergency clause.

The other two bills: (E-Emergency)

—Provide that the Department of Motor Vehicles shall determine the color of parking and signal lights on all motor vehicles. (7-0).

—Authorize rental and use of state lands with provision that when such property is needed for highway purposes, the use or occupancy of the land shall cease and all money received as rent will be deposited in the highway cash fund. (E) (7-0).

Bowen Requests Interim Study Of District Problem

Sen. Kenneth Bowen of Red Cloud said Friday a legislative interim committee should be set up to study the makeup of all state boards and commissions that have their members elected or appointed from the 4 Congressional districts.

Bowen said the study was necessary if the state loses one of its Congressional districts for failure to keep up with the rest of the country in population gain. He said many boards have their members elected from the present 4 districts.

Bowen made the observation after the Government and Military Affairs committee refused to introduce a bill sought by the Board of Educational Lands and Funds. Bowen is chairman of the committee.

Board secretary Elmer Mahlin said the bill was needed in case the state should lose one of its Congressional districts.

He said the board has 5 members, 4 elected from the 4 Congressional districts and the other elected at large.

The bill would have allowed the 4 members to be elected from the present 4 Congressional districts even if the state was redistricted to 3 districts.

But Bowen said the committee rejected the bill because it felt an overall approach was needed to the problem.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

I practice hard every single day, because some day I hope to be an accomplished pianist. And it is all possible because Mommy read an ad which said "Want Ads Are For Everybody". I wanted a piano for a long, long time, but there were so many other things the family needed I was told I would just have to await my turn. Then Mommy started reading the Journal and Star Want Ads and it wasn't long until she found a fine used piano at a price we could afford.

That's how I got my wish, and that's why I say that when Want Ads can do so much for a little girl like me, they surely are for everybody!

Mid-September Date Likely For Norris Centennial

Governor Frank Morrison Friday discussed plans for the centennial celebration honoring the late Sen. George W. Norris. The governor conferred with John T. Harris of McCook on the plans.

Plans for the event include invitations to the governors of all the states served by the Tennessee Valley Authority, which Norris helped create, plus many other business, political and literary figures, he said.

Morrison has invited President Kennedy to attend also, but the President has "put it on ice for the time being" since he is accepting no speaking engagements while Congress is in session.

On another matter, Morrison said he has received a letter from Colorado Gov. Steve McNichols pledging his co-operation with Morrison's proposal to exchange ideas between highway departments of the two states.

Schacht, Wilson Due At Anti-Trust Meet

Lincoln Star Special

Columbus—R. L. Schacht, general manager, and Lincoln attorney R. W. Wilson will represent Consumers Public Power District at a Washington meeting Monday to discuss actions against electric equipment manufacturers convicted of anti-trust violations.

The meeting has been called by the American Public Power Assn.

Markets At A Glance

New York (AP)—

Stocks — Mixed, trading slow.

Chicago:

Wheat — Mixed; nearby month firm.

Laos Crisis Prompts Wary Stock Action

New York (AP) — The Laos crisis prompted caution on the stock market Friday and prices declined irregularly on the lightest volume in nearly six weeks.

Turnover sank to 4.39 million shares from 5.17 million Thursday and was the smallest since Feb. 13 when 3.56 million shares changed hands.

Most of the major stock groups were mixed but the trend was downward among motors, rubbers, chemicals and nonferrous metals. Gains and losses of key stocks ran from fractions to about a point.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined .5 to 243.10 with industrials down 1.20, rails down .10 and utilities unchanged.

Of 1,246 issues traded, 466 advanced and 559 declined. New 1961 lows totaled four and new highs 59.

Thirteen of the 15 most active stocks advanced and two declined.

Total volume in corporates on the New York Stock Exchange fell below $7 million par value for the first time in over a month. At $6.42 million the total was the lowest since $5.14 million on Feb. 13, a semiholiday session. Thursday's trading amounted to $7.56 million.

GRAINS STALL; PRICES STEADY

Commercial factors were negligible or absent and dealings were confined largely to evening-up commitments for the weekend. Trade volume probably was at its lowest level of the week.

A few minus signs appeared from time to time through the list but there was no concerted move toward large scale selling. Most of the time prices were equal to or slightly above previous finishes.

Soybeans ended 2½ cents a bushel higher to 1 cent lower, May $3.04½-05¼; wheat ⅝ higher to ⅛ lower, May $2.06-05⅞; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, May $1.15⅝-½; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, May 64⅜-½; rye ¾ higher to 1 cent lower, May $1.26¾-27.

Drop Prosecution Of Accused Spies

. . . To Erase Friction With Russia

Chicago (AP) — The United States has decided to ease friction with Russia by dropping prosecution of two men charged with spying for the Soviets.

Dismissal of indictments against Igor Y. Melekh, 47, Russian employe of the United Nations secretariat, and Willie Hirsch, 52, German-born artist, is conditional upon Melekh leaving the United States by April 17.

Surprise announcement of the decision came Friday when Melekh and Hirsch appeared for arraignment before Judge Edwin M. Robson in U.S. District Court.

Urged By Attorney General

Albert F. Manion, assistant U.S. attorney, told the court that U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy ordered him to seek an order paving the way for dismissal.

Mansion told the court the step was decided upon after consultation by the attorney general and State Department officials, to serve "national and foreign policy interests of the United States."

In Washington, the State Department said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk was active in bringing about the decision.

The State Department said, however, there was no deal with Russia for releasing Melekh. Specifically, a spokesman said, there was no deal involving U2 Pilot Francis Gary Powers, now held by the Soviets, or bearing upon the release by Russia in January of the RB47 fliers.

The FBI said that Melekh had indicated the intelligence data he sought for transmission to the Soviet Union included aerial photographs of military targets in Chicago and near it, and a map of Chicago, pin-pointing targets for bombing purposes.

Biography Done

London (AP) — Colonial Secretary Iain MacLeod has completed a biography of Neville Chamberlain, the prime minister who thought he could avert World War II by dickering with Hitler at Munich in 1938.

Karachi Express Accident Kills 22

Karachi, Pakistan (AP) — Twenty-two persons including 7 schoolchildren were killed Friday when the Karachi Express jumped the rails at a grade crossing at Kotri, 120 miles north of Karachi.

About 40 were injured, 4 of them critically.

Two cars were demolished. About 300 rescue workers searched the debris for bodies.

At another grade-crossing, a train-bus collision near the northern town of Jacobabad killed 3 and injured 25 bus passengers.

Wife Rushing To See Dying Husband, Held In Red China

Hong Kong (AP)— Robert McCann of Altadena, Calif., an American prisoner in Red China, is dying of cancer and his wife is rushing to his side, American consulate officials here reported Saturday.

McCann is one of 5 American prisoners in Red China. A former businessman, he was arrested in Tientsin in 1951 and is serving a 15-year term on spy charges.

Mrs. McCann is due here by plane Sunday afternoon, an airline spokesman said.

The Chinese Communist government has granted her a 3-weeks visa to visit her dying husband, the airline was told.

American consular officials corroborated the report but said they had no direct information from Peiping or any further details.

Mrs. McCann is expected to spend two or 3 days in this British Colony before crossing the border into Communist China.

Her husband was arrested on June 14, 1951, and according to the last report, was held in a Tientsin jail.

The U.S. government has appealed several times to the Chinese government for release of American prisoners.

Scottsbluff Firm Is Incorporated

Articles of incorporation were filed in the Nebraska secretary of state's office Friday by Mountain Air Corp., Scottsbluff, a manufacturer of air conditioning and other metal products.

Butte Grain and Storage Co., Valentine; Dr. John E. Farner, Dr. Wilbur E. Johnson and La Velle Moosman, all of Valentine; $100,000.

Scotts Bluff Land and Investment Corp., Scottsbluff; Gail B. Berge and Lee Ekberg, both of Scottsbluff; $100,000.

Rocket Revue Has Polished Talent

By Roger Wait

Northeast High School students combined energy and polished talent to stage a flawless launching of their annual "Rocket Revue" Friday evening.

From a jazzed-up spoof of television to barefoot acrobatics and energetic Charleston, the 16-act variety show soared through a two-hour performance.

Again Saturday

A second presentation of the show—dubbed "A Score of Stars" to celebrate the 20th year since Northeast opened its doors—is set for Saturday evening.

In subdued light appropriate for its Oriental theme, the "Siamese Chopsticks" act was impressive as 10 girls knelt under cone-like hats to tap out staccato accompaniment to Asiatically flavored music.

But the "Unteachables" stole the show as they parodied a student council "considering" whether school should become coeducational again. "Mob-rule" in the best Chicago-gangland style resulted in gun-moll "coeds" being let in.

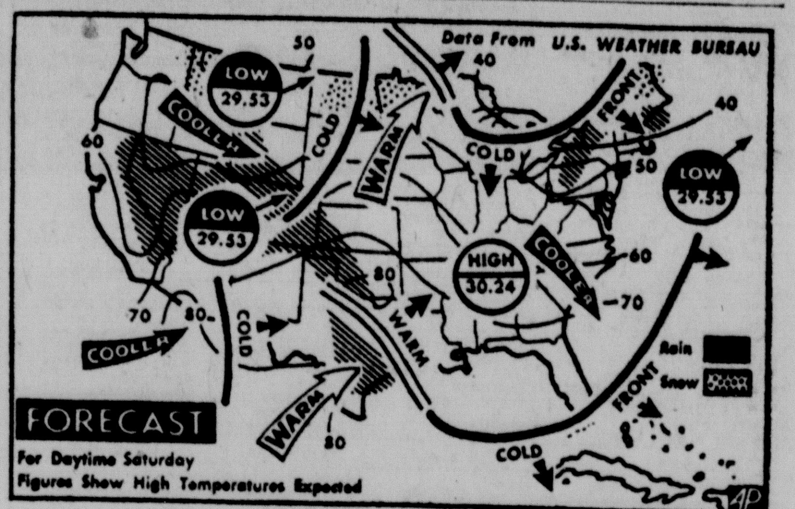
Mrs. Beryl Bowlin directed the performance.

2 Turkish Officials Visit State Legislature

Two Turkish government officials, in Nebraska to study soil and water conservation methods and administration, visited the state Legislature Friday.

The officials are Mr. Cubukcu, regional director of the soil conservation and farm irrigation division of the ministry of agriculture at Istanbul, and Mr. Gurel, director of organization and administration of irrigation offices at Ankara.

The Nebraska stop is the first in the United States—outside of Washington — for the Turks. They will remain in the state until April 15, then visit Oklahoma and Texas before returning to Turkey in May.



Dry, Mild Saturday Expected

Rain and snow showers are forecast Saturday for western Pennsylvania, northern New York and New England. Rain mixed with snow in higher elevations is expected in the Rockies. Texas and California will have scattered showers. (AP Wirephoto Map)

15 STUDENTS OFFERED NATIONAL FELLOWSHIPS

National Defense Graduate Fellowships have been offered to 15 students who plan to begin graduate work at the University of Nebraska in September (1961), according to Dr. Harold E. Wise, associate dean of the Graduate College.

N.D.E.A. fellowships now total 39 at the University, representing aid in the amount of more than $260,000 to worthy and qualified graduate students in 8 areas of study. Twenty-four students are now enrolled for graduate study under the N.D.E.A. fellowships.

The new recipients have until April 15 to accept or decline the fellowships, which are distributed among the following departments: history, 4; English, 5; mathematics, 3; entomology, 2; and political science, 1.

Each 3-year fellowship will provide a grant of $2,000 for the first year, $2,200 for the second and $2,400 for the third year, plus a stipend of $400 for each dependent.

In addition, the act provides for an accompanying grant to the University of up to $2,500 to pay for the cost of educating each candidate.

Entomology: Glenn M. Stokes of Alexandria, La.; and Dennis M. Danieison of Duluth, Minn.

This is the first time that the University of Nebraska has received N.D.E.A. fellowships in the fields of history, English, and mathematics.

According to a University of Illinois survey, new car dealers generally ranked newspaper display advertising as the No. 1 medium, and 85% of the dealers polled rated newspapers "most effective" for money expended.
